Globe Plant Holds Dedication Rites

WITH THE NEW AUTOMATED pouring pit refractory in the background, officials of Globe Refractories, Inc., study the completed plans for the plant during dedication ceremonies today at the plant in Newell. Left to right are Paul Hermann, treasurer and controller; R. B. Eberle Jr., vice president and secretary; William F. Porter, president; Phillip D. Dressler, a guest and retired executive of the Swindell-Dressler Co. of Pittsburgh; Sidney C. Porter Jr., vice president, and William J. Curry, vice president.

Dedication ceremonies for the new $3.5 million Globe Refractories, Inc., facility at the plant near Newell got under way late this morning.

Various tri - state area civic, governmental and industrial leaders were gathered at the plant for the exercises, a luncheon and a tour through the automated pouring pit refractory.

The 140,000 - square - foot structure is termed the largest and most highly automated pouring pit refractory unit in the world and is capable of producing 22 million fire brick a year.

Completly automatic procedures are used in the pressing, storing, car handling and firing phases of production, according to William F. Porter president of the firm, longtime industry in Hancock County which recently changed its name from the Globe Brick Co.

Gov. Hulett C. Smith of West Virginia, who was to be the principal speaker at today's ceremonies, was unable to attend.

High - Altitude Raid

B52s Strike North Sites Being Set Up As Missile Stations

Bombers Hit 3 Locations Along DMZ

Communists Seek To Halt Damaging Blows From B52s

SAIGON (AP) — High-altitude B52 bombers struck inside North Vietnam today at hidden sites where the Communists were preparing to put up missile stations in an effort to halt the damaging blows from the Stratofortresses along the demilitarized zone.

The B52 raid three miles inside North Vietnamese territory was one of three heavy strikes during which the big bombers unloaded some 450,000 pounds of bombs from the demilitarized zone north.

The heavy pressure in South Vietnam's northern provinces was reflected in last week's casualty figures announced today by the U.S. Command. The number of American and Communist combat dead were the highest in two months, and at least two-thirds of the Americans were around the coastal town of Tam Ky and 150 miles to the north on the fringes of the DMZ.

The U.S. Command said 242 Americans were killed last week, 1,490 were wounded and seven were missing. South Vietnamese forces reported 250 killed, while Communist dead totaled 2,103 killed.

Since the South Vietnamese presidential election Sept. 3 brought an end to a two-month lull in ground fighting, the Communists have repeatedly committed big units to battle in the north and hurled continual mortar and artillery barrages at the Marines holding the line south of the DMZ. The sandbagged, underground fortress at Con Thien has been a repeated target.

Today's B52 riads smthered the jungle routes leading down to Con Thien and blasted suspected artillery gun posts as well as the area north of the zone where preparations were spotted to install the big SAM missiles which can reach an altitude of 70,000 feet.

Earlier this year the Communists succeeded in bringing down the big missiles, forcing the Air Force to pull back its high-altitude bombers to targets below the zone.

At Stratton And Shippingport

New Area Facilities Due With Power Pooling Plan

New facilities are planned within the next few years at Stratton and Shippingport under an extensive joint development of power generating and transmission units announced today by five investor - owned electric utilities serving northern Ohio and western Pennsylvania.

A 625,000-kilowatt, coal - fired generating unit will be installed in September of 1971 by the Ohio Edison Co. at the W. H. Sammis plant on the Ohio River at Stratton to be jointly owned with the Duquesne Light Co.

In October 1973, plans call for the construction of an 800,000 kilowatt nuclear generating unit by the Duquesne Light Co. at the Shippingport plant to be jointly owned with Ohio Edison.

THE OTHER companies in the development are the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co., the Pennsylvania Power Co. and the Toledo Edison Co. Along with Ohio Edison and Duquesne, they constitute the CAPCO, Central Area Power Coordination Group, and serve approximately two million customers.

In announcing the power pooling arrangement, officials said it "will achieve substantial economies to help keep electric rates low and will further improve the reliability of electric service to the areas served."

D. Bruce Mansfield, president of Ohio Edison and one of the prime movers in the vast project, emphasized its importance as follows:

"The new power pool will insure an adequate supply of power for the area between Toledo and Pittsburgh. This area has been acclaimed as a future megalopolis, a broad complex of industrial and population growth in a continuous band across Ohio and western Pennsylvania. The territory served by the Ohio Edison System is in the midst of this area."

—:—

THE PROJECTED joint construction will add nearly three million kilowatts of capacity to be shared by the companies in meeting increasing demands for electric service and is designed "to provide ample power for the tremendous anticipated growth of business and industry as well as residential development in the Northern Ohio -Western Pennsylvania region."

Planned construction completion dates and sizes of generating units in addition to the two mentioned above include:

August, 1972 — A 625,000 kilowatt, coal - fired generating unit to be installed by Cleveland Electric at a site located in northeastern Ohio and to be jointly owned with Duquesne Light.

December, 1974 — An 800,000 kilowatt generating unit to be installed by Toledo Edison at a site located in Northwestern Ohio and to be jointly owned with Cleveland Electric.

More Truckers Are Harassed

New Shooting Incidents Reported As Strike Slows Steel Shipments

New shooting incidents Wednesday night and early today were reported by truckers in this area as a wildcat strike by private haulers continued to slow steel shipments in three states.

An Iowa driver reported his rig was fired at near Hanoverton last night and another trucker said men in a car fired five shots into the rear of his tractor-trailer west of Lisbon this morning.

City police escorted a convoy of 15 rigs through East Liverpool and out to Route 30 today, while the Ohio Highway Patrol and Pennsylvania state police stepped up highway operations in a move to halt further shootings.

THE DRIVER of a steel-hauling rig was wounded early today by a shot fired from a passing car on Route 224 near Medina, the Highway Patrol reported.

The driver, hospitalized at Medina, said the car, with Pennsylvania license plates, followed him from Canton. He was identified as Alex Baker, 26, of Monroe Falls.

Lisbon police and patrol officers at Lisbon were told by Hilton Emal Reeb, 43, of Antwerp, Ohio, a car pulled behind his tractor on Route 30 west of Lisbon this morning and fired five shots into the rear.

The truck is owned by the Bohren Transport Co. of Woodburn, Ind.

Edwin Johnson, 38, of Des Moines, Iowa, driving a rig loaded with farm machinery for Central State Express of Des Moines, said three rear tires of his outfit were pierced by bullets about 9:30 p.m. on Route 30 west of Hanoverton.

Officers believe the shots were fired from a .22-caliber rifle.

Charles Matheny, 26, of New Matamoras, whose truck veered off Route 7 near Brookside yesterday morning and smashed through guardrails, remained unconscious and in "poor" condition at City Hospital today.

THE PATROL said an investigation is continuing in the accident to determine if there had been any sabotage to the vehicle. An officer said the air-brake system may have failed, but they have not been able to talk with Matheny. He suffered head injuries.

Two drivers reported to city police yesterday shots had been fired and stones tossed at their trucks as they were en route to the Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland Division yesterday morning.

Meanwhile, steel was piling up in mills and warehouses, and some companies were turning more to railroads for shipping.

Crucible officials said their shipping was being disrupted by the strike.

Six men appeared at Midland police headquarters at 4:27 a. m. today and reported they intended to set up a picket line at the 10th St. gate to the Midland plant. The line was set up, but remained in effect only about 30 minutes. Police said there was no incidents.

Mayor Will Probe Jury's Report Rapping Officers

Mayor George E. Willshaw met today with administration aides to plan a full - scale investigation into charges issued Wednesday by the Columbiana County grand jury that cases presented by the East Liverpool police department have been marked by "conflicting dates, insufficient witnesses and lack of evidence."

But the mayor added that he does not intend to criticize the police department until he has learned specifically what prompted the jury's charges—part of its report filed yesterday in Common Pleas Court.

"I am not about to condemn any officers at this early stage of the game because I am not familiar with the facts that led to this charge," the mayor said. "This hit me as a surprise."

The mayor met privately for nearly an hour to discuss the jury's charges with Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper and Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, who prosecutes police court cases.

Meanwhile, in a statement at Lisbon, Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis said he "supports" the Grand Jury's allegations and expanded on the facts that he said led to the criticism.

"Jurors are intelligent; they don't need anyone to point out the difference between cases that are well - prepared and those that aren't," Bettis said.

"When the jurors ask questions, we answer them. The report is their own doing."

It is the prosecutor's office which presents the evidence to the grand jury in cases in which indictments are sought. Only the prosecution side is presented, to enable the jury to determine if sufficient facts have been adduced to warrant an indictment. If an indictment is returned, the defendant then goes to trial in Common Pleas Court.

"At no time has any county official told me there was any difficulty in testimony or reports presented by the local department," the mayor said after the meeting this morning.

"I am going to investigate with the help of the local legal department. We have started

Baseball Star Killed In Accident At Mill

An Ohio State University baseball star, about to leave for his second year of school, was killed Wednesday at the Weirton Steel Co. when pinned between a pair of steel doors.

William R. Carroll Jr., 19, of Amsterdam, Jefferson County, died when crushed by the doors of a drying furnace in the heat bottom house at the mill.

He had planned to leave Friday for Ohio State, where he compiled an outstanding record last year as a pitcher on the freshman baseball team. He is a son on Mr. and Mrs. William R. Carroll of Amsterdam.

LISBON — A Youngstown man and woman charged with aiding and abetting an assault with a dangerous weapon on a priest were transferred this morning to the Columbiana County Jail.

Chief of Police Allen Gibson of Leetonia said Charles Cremeans of the Colonia Motel, Boardman, and Joan Markovich, 28, of 1355 E. Boston St., Youngstown, were arrested about 2 a. m. Wednesday when they arrived at the motel.

Chief Gibson said he has reason to believe Cremeans and Miss Markovich were accessories in the attempted armed robbery of Fr. Thomas Beldue Sept. 3 at the St. Patrick's Church rectory in Leetonia.

Global Alert Flashed On Missing U.S. Bills

NEW YORK (AP) — Worldwide alerts have been flashed that negotiable U.S. Treasury bills worth a total of $1,552,000 are missing from the New York investment concern of Hayden Stone Inc.

Banks, trust companies and securities dealers have been notified to be on the lookout for the 56 bills, which resemble stock certificates. Hayden Stone has put a stop order on the bills.

New York City police revealed the loss Wednesday. Hayden Stone had given the denominations and serial numbers of the bills to the police and the FBI on Tuesday. The company said it is fully insured for the loss.

School Battle Set By Negley Group

NEGLEY — A long-term effort to keep the Negley School bus transportation issue alive was pledged during a town meeting attended by 125 Wednesday night at the fire station.

Leaders at the third in the series of community meetings recognized the failure to revise board policy on transporting the fourth - grade students to East Palestine.

But the group agreed to have the Negley School Rights Committee continue to function, and set three plans of action.

THEY ARE to work for the election of at least one Negley area candidate in the November general election, to have representation from Negley at all board of education meetings and to seek the cooperation of residents of other parts of the school district.

Judge D. Barry Dickson, retained as legal adviser, suggested the use of the ballot box by the group to win its programs, along with the possible transfer to another school district.

He also listed a bid to obtain a mandamus court action to prevent bussing the fourth grade to East Palestine, but said he had little hope for success, pointing out the board was in its authority even though the action is unpopular.

There seemed to be no concerted move by the group to investigate transfer to another district, nor on a proposal to have the community incorporated as a village.

Romney Urged To Hurry And Announce Candidacy

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney has been urged to hurry an announcement of candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination but is holding back, a Romney source acknowledged today.

The source added that "even back in June, people were advising the governor to declare the next day."

Romney has taken the advice under consideration, but no decision is expected soon, the source indicated.

One of those reported to have urged Romney to make his intention known is Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, an early supporter of Romney for the nomination.

Romney is expected to see Rockefeller tonight in New York City—another stop in a study of urban problems and a sampling of political winds.

Wednesday, Romney flew into Rochester in his undeclared quest and sought answers in a Negro neighborhood to urban uprisings. He got some hard questions.

Among other things, the Michigan governor was asked why he believed he could handle the nation when the major city of his home state had been torn by rioting this summer, rioting described as the worst in this nation's history.

Romney, who says he is making a 19-day sweep across the nation to learn more about the problems of Negroes and the cities, sat down in a storefront headquarters of a Negro organization named FIGHT.

Teachers Set To Defy Court In New York

Picket Lines Will Stay Until Contract Is OK'd, They Say

NEW YORK (AP) — Union leaders say they'll defy a State Supreme Court order demanding the end to the strike by city teachers, now in its fourth day. The walkout has provided at least 60 per cent of the city's 1.1 million public school children with extra summer vacation.

The absentee rate among both pupils and volunteer teachers has risen on each successive day of the strike, Board of Education figures show.

Albert Shanker, president of the 49,000-member AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers said Wednesday its picket lines "will stay until the teachers have ratified a contract."

The temporary injunction prohibiting a continuation of the strike was ordered by Justice Emilio Nunez. The union ignored a prior restraining order when it began the walkout Monday.

Shanker and two other union officials were to appear in court today before Nunez to show cause why they and the union should not be cited for contempt. If found guilty they would face a maximum penalty of $250 and 30 days in jail.

While legal maneuvers continued there were growing signs of student concern. "Teach now, talk later," read signs carried Wednesday by some student counterpickets outside Central Commercial High School.

Midland Council Gets Report

Slag Plant Takes Steps To Combat Dust Problem

A letter from Brown Brothers Slag Co. on the problem of dust in the Springlane area was aired when the Midland Borough Council met Wednesday night at the Borough building.

Harry D. George, vice president-operations, advised by letter that some steps have been taken to cut the dust, such as oiling roadways. He said the company is in the process of revising cooling procedures in the hot slag pits to produce a less friable material which will reduce, to some degree, the amount of dust resulting from their crushing and screening operation.

He said the company is experimenting with using a limited amount of water spray on the material as it enters the plant.

He said the main problem is the blast furnace, slag screening and crushing plant which is 30 years old and does not readily lend itself to a modern dust recovery system.

Donald Bertram of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester, Borough engineer, said delivery of tennis nets is delaying completion of Midland's new tennis courts. He said court lights will be installed in about two weeks. Mayor Eli G. Corak said a representative of the county recreation department will assist in setting up a schedule of use for the courts once they are opened.

Mayor Corak proclaimed next Tuesday as Postal Services Day and commended Postmaster Angelo Cellini and all other postal employes for their continued fine service to the community.

It was announced that "no parking" signs will be removed from Virginia Ave. in front of the swimming pool now that the pool has closed for the season. William Vinovich Sr., Council president, commended Vic Martinetti, pool manager, for his fine supervision of the facility this summer. He said the pool has the reputation of being one of the cleanest such facilities in Beaver County. Raymond Presutti, Council vice president, commended Vinovich, pool committee chairman, and his assistants on a job well done. Vinovich thanked Councilmen Len Ware and Presutti who have served on his committee.

Officers' reports were received and filed. Bills totaling $11,580 were paid.

The meeting was attended by representatives of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. (NAACP).

Council will meet Sept. 27 at 8 p. m.

White Youths Pelt Negroes In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Gangs of white youths pelted Negro motorists and police cars with rocks, bottles and bricks Wednesday night in a fourth straight night of violence on the virtually all- white South Side.

The crowds had gathered for a second successive night in anticipation of an open housing march by Negroes who stopped short of the South Side neighborhood.

Police finally broke up the crowds of white youths with repeated barrages of tear gas and smoke bombs and with the intimidating blasts of riot guns and revolvers, but not before several police cars and vans were showered with flying debries. Three persons were injured. At least 20 were arrested.

The violence came despite a decision by the Rev. James E. Groppi, a white Roman Catholic priest, and the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, to steer clear of the South Side— where their open housing march was greeted with bottles and bricks Monday night.

Seminar Set On Security By Chamber

Plans to hold a security seminar on shoplifting were discussed when the Board of Directors of the Midland area Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday night. The directors will study the possibility of making it a joint venture with the Beaver Chamber of Commerce. Businessmen and employees would be invited to attend.

The Board approved the purchase of 10 additional Christmas stringers for the 1967 Christmas lighting project in the district. These will be in addition to five star stringers purchased last year.

The Directors decided to write to the Department of Public Instruction for laws concerning mergers and jointures.

They discussed holding a tennis event on the new courts in conjunction with a tennis and badminton clinic to be held at the courts or in the new gym Oct. 23 from 9:30 a. m. until 3 p. m. The clinic has been planned by Lifetime Sports and Education with Charles Polce, co - ordinator. Polce is boys' physical education instructor at Lincoln High School.

The Chamber will meet Oct. 11 at 7:30 p. m.

Anthony Martell, chairman of the Retail Division, reported on a new car promotion planned for Oct. 10 through 12. The committee will display new autos in the business district. A planning meeting will be held Friday at 1 p.m. at Muzzy's Bar, Martell reported.

Okays Dental Grant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Office of Opportunity reported Wednesday that Gov. James A. Rhodes has approved a $49,594 federal grant to the Knox - Coshocton-Holmes Tri-County Community Action Committee for continuation of a one-year dental care program for low income students.

Record Turnout Due Tonight For Bazaar Windup

A record crowd is expected tonight for the windup of the Midland Presentation Church bazaar which has "Summer Festival" as its theme.

A chicken dinner will be served from 5:30 to 7:30, with Mrs. William Selepec and Mrs. Anthony DiCiccio co-chairmen. About 300 roast beef dinners were served Tuesday night at the opening event.

Some 360 parochial school children were excused from classes Wednesday afternoon so they could visit the bazaar.

A rock and roll group will play again tonight near the Catholic Youth Organization Center. They have performed each night. CYO members decorated the grounds in a harvest theme. They were assisted by Mrs. Elmer Angellone.

Richard DeCastro is president of the CYO.

General chairman of the event is the Rev. Stephen J. Burdis, who is being assisted by the Rev. Walter Sobon.

Club Will Press For Traffic Light

A committee was named to press the campaign for a traffic light in the Calcutta area when the Liverpool Calcutta Ruritan Club met Monday night in the Glenmoor fire hall.

The Ohio Highway Department will be contacted relative to the matter.

James Justice, district governor, and Robert Nelson, zone governor, spoke. Justice discussed the need for Ruritan expansion locally and nationally and Nelson reviewed plans for the zone convention to be hosted by the local club.

Their accumulated service totaled 282 years.

Steer Club Sets New Regulations

LISBON — The Columbiana County Steer Club, open to 4-H members and Future Farmers of America between 12 and 20, will operate under the same rules it followed this year with the exception of one change in the age limit.

A local club member, aged 10 to 12, can be enrolled if the adviser, parents and county steer committee believe the child is capable of handling a steer.

A first - year member may carry only one steer project. Steers must be obtained or designated between Sept. 20 and Oct. 31. They must weigh between 325 and 475 pounds and members cannot pay more than 35 cents per pound for them. They may be selected from the home herd subject to approval of the committee.

Application forms and dated weigh slips must be in the extension office at 113 S. Market St., Lisbon, by Nov. 4. Both may be obtained at the extension office.

Jim Curry, an all - state basketball player as a sophomore at Altoona, Pa. (he led his team to the state finals), holds the Cincinnati University football records for most yardage receiving, in a game and a season.

Wood Planes Hailed

LONDON — One of Britain's most successful wartime aircraft was the de Havilland Mosquito, whose wooden fuselage was accepted by military authorities on the argument that, in the early days of World War II, wood was highly available and wood workers in good supply. In contrast, both metals and metalworkers were scarce.

Dahlia Society Completes Plans For Annual Show

Plans were completed for the 42nd annual East Liverpool Floral and Dahlia Show when the society met Monday night in the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex.

The show will be held Sept. 23-24 at Westgate Junior High School, with Clark McCoy as chairman. J. T. Eccleston is chairman of judges.

McCoy requested assistance from the membership in helping to "assemble and disassemble" the show.

Leo C. Lawrence reported on a recent floral show held at the Corning Glass Center, where he was a judge. Eccleston, a judge for the eighth year at the New York State Fair in Syracuse, also reported. Eccleston also judged at a Midwest Dahlia Conference Sept. 7-10 in Deerborn, Mich., representing the society here.

Lawrence presented a program which included a discussion on the cutting, conditioning, packaging and staging of dahlia blossoms for shows.

Among the 26 present were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Yuker of Beaver Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sigle and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Knopp of Canfield and Clarence Waser of Austintown.

Lunch was served by Charles Glover, Fred Leughmyer and McCoy.

The next meeting will be Oct. 9 at 8 p. m.

The annual judging school will be held Oct. 1 at 2 p. m. with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence of 778 Midway Ln. Out-of-town growers will participate. A board of directors meeting will follow.

Square Dances Feature Meeting At Grange Hall

Among those participating were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Zickefoote, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Neetey, Mr. and Mrs. David Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kobulnicky and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Geans, all members of various granges.

Mrs. Hilda Allison, lecturer, Robert Parkins, worthy master, and Mrs. Jay Minor took part in the ceremony of lighting the centennial candle.

Refreshments were served 29 by Mrs. Agnes Herron and her committee.

Boosters night will be held Sept. 26, with the public invited to attend.

2 Executives End Careers

14 Retire From Crucible

Dwight B. Burns of East Liverpool, superintendent of maintenance - crafts, and Coy T. Montgomery of Midland, superintendent - forge stock department, have retired at the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co.

Also retiring were Donald J. Dowlin of Beaver, supervisor-receiving and stores, and Earl T. Reese of East Liverpool, industrial engineering analyst.

Ten hourly workers also have retired.

BURNS, with 37 years service, joined Crucible in 1926 as an iron worker. He joined Midland Division in 1942 as a structural foreman, became general foreman in 1944 and was appointed superintendent of shops and services in 1961. He served as project coordinator - maintenance division and as a member of the Profit Improvement Committee prior to his appointment as superintendent of maintenance - crafts in 1965.

Burns is a member of the Association of Iron and Steel Engineers and the Beaver County Industrial Management Club. He is married and has four daughters, Mrs. Theda Harman of Chicago and Mrs. Phyllis Marshall, Mrs. Helen Marshall and Mrs. Patricia May, all of East Liverpool.

MONTGOMERY, with 39 year service, joined Crucible in 1928 in heat treat and cold drawn department. In 1935, he transferred to the forge stock department which at that time was known as the Axle Mill or No. 3 Mill. There, he was turn foreman, general foreman 15 years and was appointed superintendent in 1957.

COY MONTGOMERY
Ends 39-Year Service.

DWIGHT BURNS
City Resident Retires.

He is married and has two daughters, Mrs. Shirley Scholl of Monroeville, Pa., and Mrs. Juanita Howell of Athens, Ga.

Dowlin, with 41 years service, joined Crucible Mine at Crucible, Pa., in 1926. He became supervisor - stores and supplies in 1946 and transferred to Midland Division in 1953 as supervisor-receiving and stores. He is married.

Reese, with 33 years service, joined Crucible in 1934 as a heater helper in the blooming mill and transferred the same year to the invoice department as a clerk. In 1935, he became a clerk in the conditioning department and in 1947 joined the bonus department - industrial engineering as an industrial engineering analyst.

He is married and has one son, Terry Reese of Youngstown.

SIX OF the 10 hourly employes averaged 32 years service each on retirement.

They are: Lawrence A. Doyle, 37 years service, Milan Rudar and Sam Pacella, 33 years each, all of Midland; Jefferson Perry of Wellsville, 33 years; Mark Davis of Rogers RD 1, 31 years; and Hilario Montiel of Smiths Ferry RD 1, 30 years service.

Others are: George P. Dye, 24 years, and Raymond A. Virden, 15 years, both of East Liverpool, Harvey S. Gamble of Chester RD 1, 24 years, and Alonzo A. Bogges of Wellsville RD 1, 22 years service.

Their accumulated service totaled 282 years.

Steer Club Sets New Regulations

LISBON — The Columbiana County Steer Club, open to 4-H members and Future Farmers of America between 12 and 20, will operate under the same rules it followed this year with the exception of one change in the age limit.

A local club member, aged 10 to 12, can be enrolled if the adviser, parents and county steer committee believe the child is capable of handling a steer.

A first - year member may carry only one steer project. Steers must be obtained or designated between Sept. 20 and Oct. 31. They must weigh between 325 and 475 pounds and members cannot pay more than 35 cents per pound for them. They may be selected from the home herd subject to approval of the committee.

Application forms and dated weigh slips must be in the extension office at 113 S. Market St., Lisbon, by Nov. 4. Both may be obtained at the extension office.

Jim Curry, an all - state basketball player as a sophomore at Altoona, Pa. (he led his team to the state finals), holds the Cincinnati University football records for most yardage receiving, in a game and a season.

Wood Planes Hailed

LONDON — One of Britain's most successful wartime aircraft was the de Havilland Mosquito, whose wooden fuselage was accepted by military authorities on the argument that, in the early days of World War II, wood was highly available and wood workers in good supply. In contrast, both metals and metalworkers were scarce.

Dahlia Society Completes Plans For Annual Show

Plans were completed for the 42nd annual East Liverpool Floral and Dahlia Show when the society met Monday night in the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex.

The show will be held Sept. 23-24 at Westgate Junior High School, with Clark McCoy as chairman. J. T. Eccleston is chairman of judges.

McCoy requested assistance from the membership in helping to "assemble and disassemble" the show.

Leo C. Lawrence reported on a recent floral show held at the Corning Glass Center, where he was a judge. Eccleston, a judge for the eighth year at the New York State Fair in Syracuse, also reported. Eccleston also judged at a Midwest Dahlia Conference Sept. 7-10 in Deerborn, Mich., representing the society here.

Lawrence presented a program which included a discussion on the cutting, conditioning, packaging and staging of dahlia blossoms for shows.

Among the 26 present were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Yuker of Beaver Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sigle and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Knopp of Canfield and Clarence Waser of Austintown.

Heaven Help The Undecided

The day before Gov. Reagan of California let it be known he was advocating stepped-up military escalation in Vietnam, a significant visit was paid to former Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

The governor's visit was Lieut. Gen. James M. Gavin, outspoken critic of President Johnson's military policy in Vietnam.

Gen. Gavin previously had talked with Kentucky Sen. Thruston B. Morton, New York Gov. Rockefeller and Walter N. Thayer, banker, lawyer, businessman and a leading figure in Republican circles.

His message to these Republicans — and to everybody who will listen to him — is to discontinue a costly and fruitless policy of fighting Vietnamese guerrillas on their own ground. He believes, instead, that the United States should concentrate its strength in Southeast Asia in enclaves which it can easily defend; that it should not run out but pull back to defensible positions.

Gen. Gavin left the U.S. Army in 1958 in a dispute with the Eisenhower administration over its cutback of research and development funds. He is no stranger to head-on collisions — and his advocacy of pulling back has put him on a headon collision course with Gov. Reagan and the California's backers.

Either in writing the 1968 Republican party platform, or in the choice of a presidential nominee, delegates will have to decide where the party stands on Vietnam. "Choosing up sides" will be the name of the game from now on, and heaven help those who can't make up their minds.

That is why Gov. Romney of Michigan is currently suffering in the pillory. He has had trouble making up his mind. His trouble may have been no worse than that of other prominent Republicans, but he has let the public know how bad it is, unfortunately.

No Bullets, No Bricks

The gunfire and tossing of bricks at trucks in this area in the past few days indicates someone is stepping far beyond the law and the bounds of reason and is willing to jeopardize the lives of innocent people.

There has been no direct link found between this street and highway violence and the current strike by independent truck operators.

But there is a clearcut indication of some disgruntled persons involved in harassing working truck drivers by shooting at them, by hurling nails on roads, by damaging their rigs and by open threats.

There can be no justification for such flagrant disregard for the health and safety of the truckers or for the general public, for putting uninvolved innocent men, women and children in danger of death.

If the gunwielders are connected in any way with the trucking dispute, they must recognize recourse to such violence is totally unacceptable in the eyes of the public, that their action damages their own case, and that whatever punishment stems from their crimes is well deserved.

Chinese Press Border War

An uneasy peace again reigns along the Chinese-Indian border that has been the scene of violent clashes since 1954.

The latest outbreak of shelling along the Himalayan frontier was the most ferocious since intensive fighting ended in 1962.

The Chinese have pressed along the entire 2,500-mile frontier since 1951 when the People's Liberation Army overran Tibet and brought that region's autonomous status to an end.

China claims 50,000 square miles of territory that India regards as hers.

India has followed a pattern of attempting to settle the dispute by negotiation. In its customary manner, China has carried on diplomatic activity while using patrols to probe various weak areas and establish Chinese control.

The Chinese also have combined military incursions with diplomatic enticements in an attempt to isolate India from its immediate neighbors and woo the friendship of the independent kingdom of Nepal and the country of Pakistan.

Trying to explain any policy or undertaking by China is like a trip through a house of mirrors but some observers feel continued border belligerence betrays an annoyance at Soviet Union aid to India.

It also has been suggested that China is trying to put India in its place concerning the leadership of Asia.

An Indian writer, P. C. Chakravarti, feels China is playing power politics. He believes that convinced of its superiority, China is moving forward on a wave of Communistic zeal to expand to the Indian Ocean. First objective is to gain possession of the Himalayan range in preparation to moving south into the Indus and Ganges valleys.

This theory is viewed as a long-range Chinese master plan for expansion and the pace cannot be pinpointed.

Hammering At The Rock

Residents of Gibraltar have voted overwhelmingly in favor of continued British rule and now are awaiting new moves by Spain in its campaign to gain control of the tiny crown colony.

Only 44 voters cast ballots in favor of Spanish rule while 12,235 favored retaining British rule.

Gibraltarians have been under the British flag since Spain ceded Gibraltar under the Treaty of Utrecht in 1713 following conquest by Britain during the 1704 War of Spanish Succession.

The Rock, western gateway to the Mediterranean, was of strategic importance when Britannia ruled the waves, but its value is negligible in the nuclear age.

Britain has proposed independence for the 25,000 inhabitants of Gibraltar.

Spain claims sovereignty over Gibraltar and has instituted economic and diplomatic maneuvers to gain control.

The Spanish border has been closed to all but the 5,300 Spaniards who work in Gibraltar.

Gen. Francisco Franco's government also barred Spanish exports to Gibraltar and recently placed restrictions on air lanes into Gibraltar.

Prior to the election, Britain proposed placing the controversy before the World Court but could not get the necessary approval of Spain.

The election was held to dramatize to the world the reluctance of Gibraltar residents to bow to Spain's demands.

The Spanish press pooh-poohed the election as a farce and indicated it would intensify the campaign to wrest control of The Rock from Britain.

Gibraltarians are of one mind on one point: The election washed away all hope of a negotiated settlement and new steps by Spain will be more militant.

TRUMAN TWILL

Purely Personal

I can think of no reason for ignoring unnecessary roughness penalties against rampaging pass rushers whose apparent mission is to maim, mash and attempt to murder an opposing team's quarterback.

For better or worse, schoolteachers are making it known they are fed up with being sealed-lip martyrs in an upside-down system that creates affluence for everybody but preachers, teachers and protectors of the public weal.

Looking ahead to the 1968 presidential sweepstakes, I see nothing but broken heads, shattered bodies, scattered fragments of knocked-out teeth, blood, wreckage, recriminations, ruined reputations and broken friendships. It should be fun galore.

'I've A Feeling We're Not Getting Anywhere!'

The Romney 'Wall'

By Art Buchwald

It is not being publicized at the moment, but Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara soon will announce a plan to build a "wall" around Gov. George Romney.

Art Buchwald

McNamara hopes the new barrier, which will consist of concrete denials, barbed wire stories and electronic monitoring devices, will slow down Romney's attacks on the Johnson administration's Vietnam policies.

An administration spokesman told me, "Romney has been laying down a barrage of false charges against the President and the secretary of defense, and he's been infiltrating the American electorate. We have no choice but to fire back."

"What about Romney's charges that he was brainwashed in Vietnam?"

"Everyone knows that it is a violation of the Geneva Conventions to brainwash a governor of the United States. All we've ever asked of a politician who visited Vietnam was his name, his rank and his serial number."

"But Romney said that he was brainwashed in Saigon two years ago by some very experienced people."

"THAT'S JUST Republican propaganda. We're willing to open our briefings to the International Red Cross at any time to prove that we treat Republican presidential candidates humanely and in accordance with the articles of war."

"Is it not possible that an overzealous interrogator in Saigon might use methods that the White House does not know about or approve of?"

"There is that possibility, but we've investigated the Romney case thoroughly and both Gen. Westmoreland and former Ambassador Lodge swear they never laid a finger on him."

"But aren't there more subtle ways of brainwashing somebody without touching him?"

"I suppose so. But the Johnson administration would never stoop to any of these. If we can't win over the opposition with the truth, then we feel we should resign."

"It's good to hear you say that," I said.

"Don't forget," the administration spokesman continued, "both President Johnson and Secretary McNamara have to shave every morning, and they could never look into a mirror and face themselves if they believed someone on their staff had lied to George Romney."

"I NEVER thought of it that way," I admitted.

"Besides, we're trying to set an example for the people of South Vietnam and if they caught us telling untruths to our own people, it would give them bad habits."

"That makes sense," I said.

"It will be a sorry day in American history if this administration resorts to falsehoods to get its story across about Vietnam."

"I think I'm going to cry," I said.

"I must admit that we've been tempted at times," he continued. "But then we thought of the millions and millions of little George Romneys throughout this country who believe in us and in what we are doing, and we decided that no matter what the cost we would stick to the truth."

"What you have just said should be put to music."

"You can't imagine how it hurts the President when somebody like the governor of Michigan, and a Republican to boot, gets on television and says he has been brainwashed. It isn't the personal damage that worries him, nor is it the attack on his veracity. What bothers the President more than anything is that George Romney would introduce politics into a presidential campaign."

I could only add, "I wonder how Romney can shave in the morning?"

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I read with interest the accounts of the hearing of Midland Patrolman Sam Ratkovich and finished with an abiding faith in the fairness and news judgment of your reporter.

I am especially interested because I have recently had occasion to question Police Chief Ed Stefl about the sale of "fake cherry bombs" in Midland and he referred me to District Attorney Robert Masters, chief law enforcement officer.

Unable to reach him after two weeks of trying — I was told he is a very busy man-- and I became angry that someone wasn't too busy to talk to citizen with a complaint. So I had to resort to the letters to the editor column of one Beaver County paper to get results and discover the power of the press and the immediate reaction it brings.

It was fortunate that the Mayor or D.A. could not suspend me without pay, but they apparently could prevent me from having any more letters printed in that paper. However, they must remember there are other newspapers of integrity and political independence and offer an open forum.

Edward P. Morgan, a noted newscaster who completed 13 years of news analysis in June, cirticized the press, referring to the devisive turmoil in the land amidst great riches, and said there is an "instrument of devastating effectiveness which we have used only superficially — the power of the press.

"Positive power," he said, "can make representative government work. But this power has not been sufficiently turned on because some elements of the press are too busy neutralizing the news to clear non-controversial space for the full page ad and singing commercial."

I hope these statements will never be true of The Review.

When, as stated in court by a witness under oath and reported in the newspaper a firearms violation can be "squelched" before a hearing is held and traffic violation charges are dismissed when the person involved is the "right" person or knows the "right" person, then something is out of balance in Midland.

In a way, editors of newspapers are guardians of our freedom of speech and judges are the caretakers of justice, but we of the reading and voting public are in the final analysis responsible only to ourselves for the maintenance and preservation of all our freedoms.

If we can be easily subdued into silence by threats or by the rejection of our comments and views by one newspaper, or we do not vote or do not consider the candidates' qualifications carefully, then we don not really believe in justice of our cause and will not long enjoy our freedoms

We need more men like Patrolman Ratkovich who do not believe that "You can't fight City Hall." Each of us can fight in his own way for what is believed in. The power of the press is an awesome thing, so is our right to vote, and if both are used judiciously are powerful weapons in any fight against inequity due to favoritism or other tyrannical injustices.

Odd Facts

The marble statue in the Lincoln Memorial is usually washed when the weather turns suddenly from cold to warm. The change in temperature causes the stone to perspire and grime rises to the surface, and this must be removed.

The tree of Tenere in Niger is so important a landmark in the Sahara that it appears on maps. The scrawny acacia tree, only large plant growing for a hundred miles, guides caravaneers to a well.

"Kitchen Cabinet" was a nickname that the enemies of President Andrew Jackson gave to a group of his political advisers. These advisers were not members of the president's official cabinet.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Profit-Sharing

The strike now going on in the automobile industry marks the first time a large labor union has made a demand for a share of the profits of the employer.

The idea is that during the next three years which the contract would cover the employer would agree to give the unions a big wage settlement, with cash raises and "fringe" benefits of at least six per cent a year.

On top of all this, each company would, at the end of its fiscal year, make an extra payment to employes based on the company's profit position during the preceding 12 months.

If an automobile company had a good year of profits, it would have to turn over part of the money to the union's members.

If, on the other hand, business was poor that year, the employes still would have the raise guaranteed in the basic contract and would not suffer.

Stockholders might have to take a cut in dividends and perhaps get no dividends at all. But union members would be receiving their annual pay increase just the same, regardless of what a company's profit situation happened to be.

What all this amounts to is "heads we win, and tails we win, too."

Profit-sharing programs in the past have not been popular with most labor unions.

ONE REASON is that if the gains in wages depended on the profits of the employer, there would not be much need for a union. But, in this instance, United Auto Workers spokesmen seek to put this profit "frosting" on top of the regular wage cake.

It is being suggested by some observers in the automobile world that union leadership might run into trouble with members if they ever got a profit-sharing plan.

Workers in a company not making a profit might find their fellow workers in other companies getting more through the profit-sharing procedure. These differences in earnings could attract workers from one company to another.

Also, employes of a company which didn't make a profit would naturally wish their union to even things up for them by making higher wage demands the next time.

Most profit-sharing plans in recent years in other industries have been pension plans. Instead of paying out a share of the profit each year, as now is being proposed, the custom has been to put the money away as an edded pension for retirement years.

The "big three" auto companies are likely to reject the demand for profit-sharing. It is believed the UAW will not insist on this plan if it wins its other demands.

The employer viewpoint is that if workers do not share in the risks as stockholders do, they ought not to share in the profits. It is also to be noted that, where profit-sharing plans have been set up, they usually do not involve bargaining with unions and are found mostly in companies which do not have union contracts.

THE ONLY experience the automobile industry has had with a profit-sharing plan was with one adopted by American Motors Corp., in 1961 and revised in 1964. Since the company has not earned a profit in the last few years, it has paid no benefits. What is being proposed now by United Auto Workers is considerably broader than the plan which American Motors adopted.

Analysis of the relationship between employers and employes in large industries would disclose that profit-sharing plans have been successfully introduced in many businesses but that they involve recognition of management's problems when it faces a bad year.

It is hardly likely that large companies would agree to a profit-sharing plan which would require a fixed percentage of the profits to be given to employes each year, irrespective of total earnings. This would interfere with a company's planning for the future and particularly its accumulation of a surplus, out of which expansion or improvement of plant is financed.

The principle of profit-sharing involves reciprocity—a mutual recognition of the fact that risks are taken in business operations and that, if there is a plan for sharing profits, there must also be some way to share losses, or at least not to increase wages during years in which profits are shrinking.

Heaven Help The Undecided

The day before Gov. Reagan of California let it be known he was advocating stepped-up military escalation in Vietnam, a significant visit was paid to former Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

The governor's visit was Lieut. Gen. James M. Gavin, outspoken critic of President Johnson's military policy in Vietnam.

Gen. Gavin previously had talked with Kentucky Sen. Thruston B. Morton, New York Gov. Rockefeller and Walter N. Thayer, banker, lawyer, businessman and a leading figure in Republican circles.

His message to these Republicans — and to everybody who will listen to him — is to discontinue a costly and fruitless policy of fighting Vietnamese guerrillas on their own ground. He believes, instead, that the United States should concentrate its strength in Southeast Asia in enclaves which it can easily defend; that it should not run out but pull back to defensible positions.

Gen. Gavin left the U.S. Army in 1958 in a dispute with the Eisenhower administration over its cutback of research and development funds. He is no stranger to head-on collisions — and his advocacy of pulling back has put him on a headon collision course with Gov. Reagan and the California's backers.

Either in writing the 1968 Republican party platform, or in the choice of a presidential nominee, delegates will have to decide where the party stands on Vietnam. "Choosing up sides" will be the name of the game from now on, and heaven help those who can't make up their minds.

That is why Gov. Romney of Michigan is currently suffering in the pillory. He has had trouble making up his mind. His trouble may have been no worse than that of other prominent Republicans, but he has let the public know how bad it is, unfortunately.

No Bullets, No Bricks

The gunfire and tossing of bricks at trucks in this area in the past few days indicates someone is stepping far beyond the law and the bounds of reason and is willing to jeopardize the lives of innocent people.

There has been no direct link found between this street and highway violence and the current strike by independent truck operators.

But there is a clearcut indication of some disgruntled persons involved in harassing working truck drivers by shooting at them, by hurling nails on roads, by damaging their rigs and by open threats.

There can be no justification for such flagrant disregard for the health and safety of the truckers or for the general public, for putting uninvolved innocent men, women and children in danger of death.

If the gunwielders are connected in any way with the trucking dispute, they must recognize recourse to such violence is totally unacceptable in the eyes of the public, that their action damages their own case, and that whatever punishment stems from their crimes is well deserved.

Chinese Press Border War

An uneasy peace again reigns along the Chinese-Indian border that has been the scene of violent clashes since 1954.

The latest outbreak of shelling along the Himalayan frontier was the most ferocious since intensive fighting ended in 1962.

The Chinese have pressed along the entire 2,500-mile frontier since 1951 when the People's Liberation Army overran Tibet and brought that region's autonomous status to an end.

China claims 50,000 square miles of territory that India regards as hers.

India has followed a pattern of attempting to settle the dispute by negotiation. In its customary manner, China has carried on diplomatic activity while using patrols to probe various weak areas and establish Chinese control.

The Chinese also have combined military incursions with diplomatic enticements in an attempt to isolate India from its immediate neighbors and woo the friendship of the independent kingdom of Nepal and the country of Pakistan.

Trying to explain any policy or undertaking by China is like a trip through a house of mirrors but some observers feel continued border belligerence betrays an annoyance at Soviet Union aid to India.

It also has been suggested that China is trying to put India in its place concerning the leadership of Asia.

An Indian writer, P. C. Chakravarti, feels China is playing power politics. He believes that convinced of its superiority, China is moving forward on a wave of Communistic zeal to expand to the Indian Ocean. First objective is to gain possession of the Himalayan range in preparation to moving south into the Indus and Ganges valleys.

This theory is viewed as a long-range Chinese master plan for expansion and the pace cannot be pinpointed.

Hammering At The Rock

Residents of Gibraltar have voted overwhelmingly in favor of continued British rule and now are awaiting new moves by Spain in its campaign to gain control of the tiny crown colony.

Only 44 voters cast ballots in favor of Spanish rule while 12,235 favored retaining British rule.

Gibraltarians have been under the British flag since Spain ceded Gibraltar under the Treaty of Utrecht in 1713 following conquest by Britain during the 1704 War of Spanish Succession.

The Rock, western gateway to the Mediterranean, was of strategic importance when Britannia ruled the waves, but its value is negligible in the nuclear age.

Britain has proposed independence for the 25,000 inhabitants of Gibraltar.

Spain claims sovereignty over Gibraltar and has instituted economic and diplomatic maneuvers to gain control.

The Spanish border has been closed to all but the 5,300 Spaniards who work in Gibraltar.

Gen. Francisco Franco's government also barred Spanish exports to Gibraltar and recently placed restrictions on air lanes into Gibraltar.

Prior to the election, Britain proposed placing the controversy before the World Court but could not get the necessary approval of Spain.

The election was held to dramatize to the world the reluctance of Gibraltar residents to bow to Spain's demands.

The Spanish press pooh-poohed the election as a farce and indicated it would intensify the campaign to wrest control of The Rock from Britain.

The direction the campaign will take is anybody's guess right now.

Gibraltarians are of one mind on one point: The election washed away all hope of a negotiated settlement and new steps by Spain will be more militant.

TRUMAN TWILL

Purely Personal

I can think of no reason for ignoring unnecessary roughness penalties against rampaging pass rushers whose apparent mission is to maim, mash and attempt to murder an opposing team's quarterback.

For better or worse, schoolteachers are making it known they are fed up with being sealed-lip martyrs in an upside-down system that creates affluence for everybody but preachers, teachers and protectors of the public weal.

Looking ahead to the 1968 presidential sweepstakes, I see nothing but broken heads, shattered bodies, scattered fragments of knocked-out teeth, blood, wreckage, recriminations, ruined reputations and broken friendships. It should be fun galore.

'I've A Feeling We're Not Getting Anywhere!'

The Romney 'Wall'

By Art Buchwald

It is not being publicized at the moment, but Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara soon will announce a plan to build a "wall" around Gov. George Romney.

McNamara hopes the new barrier, which will consist of concrete denials, barbed wire stories and electronic monitoring devices, will slow down Romney's attacks on the Johnson administration's Vietnam policies.

Art Buchwald

An administration spokesman told me, "Romney has been laying down a barrage of false charges against the President and the secretary of defense, and he's been infiltrating the American electorate. We have no choice but to fire back."

"What about Romney's charges that he was brainwashed in Vietnam?"

"Everyone knows that it is a violation of the Geneva Conventions to brainwash a governor of the United States. All we've ever asked of a politician who visited Vietnam was his name, his rank and his serial number."

"But Romney said that he was brainwashed in Saigon two years ago by some very experienced people."

"THAT'S JUST Republican propaganda. We're willing to open our briefings to the International Red Cross at any time to prove that we treat Republican presidential candidates humanely and in accordance with the articles of war."

"Is it not possible that an overzealous interrogator in Saigon might use methods that the White House does not know about or approve of?"

"There is that possibility, but we've investigated the Romney case thoroughly and both Gen. Westmoreland and former Ambassador Lodge swear they never laid a finger on him."

"But aren't there more subtle ways of brainwashing somebody without touching him?"

"I suppose so. But the Johnson administration would never stoop to any of these. If we can't win over the opposition with the truth, then we feel we should resign."

"It's good to hear you say that," I said.

"Don't forget," the administration spokesman continued, "both President Johnson and Secretary McNamara have to shave every morning, and they could never look into a mirror and face themselves if they believed someone on their staff had lied to George Romney."

"I NEVER thought of it that way," I admitted.

"Besides, we're trying to set an example for the people of South Vietnam and if they caught us telling untruths to our own people, it would give them bad habits."

"That makes sense," I said.

"It will be a sorry day in American history if this administration resorts to falsehoods to get its story across about Vietnam."

"I think I'm going to cry," I said.

"I must admit that we've been tempted at times," he continued. "But then we thought of the millions and millions of little George Romneys throughout this country who believe in us and in what we are doing, and we decided that no matter what the cost we would stick to the truth."

"What you have just said should be put to music."

"You can't imagine how it hurts the President when somebody like the governor of Michigan, and a Republican to boot, gets on television and says he has been brainwashed. It isn't the personal damage that worries him, nor is it the attack on his veracity. What bothers the President more than anything is that George Romney would introduce politics into a presidential campaign."

I could only add, "I wonder how Romney can shave in the morning?"

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I read with interest the accounts of the hearing of Midland Patrolman Sam Ratkovich and finished with an abiding faith in the fairness and news judgment of your reporter.

I am especially interested because I have recently had occasion to question Police Chief Ed Stefl about the sale of "fake cherry bombs" in Midland and he referred me to District Attorney Robert Masters, chief law enforcement officer.

Unable to reach him after two weeks of trying — I was told he is a very busy man--and I became angry that someone wasn't too busy to talk to citizen with a complaint. So I had to resort to the letters to the editor column of one Beaver County paper to get results and discover the power of the press and the immediate reaction it brings.

It was fortunate that the Mayor or D.A. could not suspend me without pay, but they apparently could prevent me from having any more letters printed in that paper. However, they must remember there are other newspapers of integrity and political independence and offer an open forum.

Edward P. Morgan, a noted newscaster who completed 13 years of news analysis in June, cirticized the press, referring to the devisive turmoil in the land amidst great riches, and said there is an "instrument of devastating effectiveness which we have used only superficially — the power of the press.

"Positive power," he said, "can make representative government work. But this power has not been sufficiently turned on because some elements of the press are too busy neutralizing the news to clear non-controversial space for the full page ad and singing commercial."

I hope these statements will never be true of The Review.

When, as stated in court by a witness under oath and reported in the newspaper a firearms violation can be "squelched" before a hearing is held and traffic violation charges are dismissed when the person involved is the "right" person or knows the "right" person, then something is out of balance in Midland.

In a way, editors of newspapers are guardians of our freedom of speech and judges are the caretakers of justice, but we of the reading and voting public are in the final analysis responsible only to ourselves for the maintenance and preservation of all our freedoms.

If we can be easily subdued into silence by threats or by the rejection of our comments and views by one newspaper, or we do not vote or do not consider the candidates' qualifications carefully, then we don not really believe in justice of our cause and will not long enjoy our freedoms

We need more men like Patrolman Ratkovich who do not believe that "You can't fight City Hall." Each of us can fight in his own way for what is believed in. The power of the press is an awesome thing, so is our right to vote, and if both are used judiciously are powerful weapons in any fight against inequity due to favoritism or other tyrannical injustices.

Odd Facts

The marble statue in the Lincoln Memorial is usually washed when the weather turns suddenly from cold to warm. The change in temperature causes the stone to perspire and grime rises to the surface, and this must be removed.

The tree of Tenere in Niger is so important a landmark in the Sahara that it appears on maps. The scrawny acacia tree, only large plant growing for a hundred miles, guides caravaneers to a well.

"Kitchen Cabinet" was a nickname that the enemies of President Andrew Jackson gave to a group of his political advisers. These advisers were not members of the president's official cabinet.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Profit-Sharing

The strike now going on in the automobile industry marks the first time a large labor union has made a demand for a share of the profits of the employer.

The idea is that during the next three years which the contract would cover the employer would agree to give the unions a big wage settlement, with cash raises and "fringe" benefits of at least six per cent a year.

On top of all this, each company would, at the end of its fiscal year, make an extra payment to employes based on the company's profit position during the preceding 12 months.

If an automobile company had a good year of profits, it would have to turn over part of the money to the union's members.

If, on the other hand, business was poor that year, the employes still would have the raise guaranteed in the basic contract and would not suffer.

Stockholders might have to take a cut in dividends and perhaps get no dividends at all. But union members would be receiving their annual pay increase just the same, regardless of what a company's profit situation happened to be.

What all this amounts to is "heads we win, and tails we win, too."

Profit-sharing programs in the past have not been popular with most labor unions.

ONE REASON is that if the gains in wages depended on the profits of the employer, there would not be much need for a union. But, in this instance, United Auto Workers spokesmen seek to put this profit "frosting" on top of the regular wage cake.

It is being suggested by some observers in the automobile world that union leadership might run into trouble with members if they ever got a profit-sharing plan.

Workers in a company not making a profit might find their fellow workers in other companies getting more through the profit-sharing procedure. These differences in earnings could attract workers from one company to another.

Also, employes of a company which didn't make a profit would naturally wish their union to even things up for them by making higher wage demands the next time.

Most profit-sharing plans in recent years in other industries have been pension plans. Instead of paying out a share of the profit each year, as now is being proposed, the custom has been to put the money away as an edded pension for retirement years.

The "big three" auto companies are likely to reject the demand for profit-sharing. It is believed the UAW will not insist on this plan if it wins its other demands.

The emplhyer viewpoint is that if workers do not share in the risks as stockholders do, they ought not to share in the profits. It is also to be noted that, where profit-sharing plans have been set up, they usually do not involve bargaining with unions and are found mostly in companies which do not have union contracts.

THE ONLY experience the automobile industry has had with a profit-sharing plan was with one adopted by American Motors Corp., in 1961 and revised in 1964. Since the company has not earned a profit in the last few years, it has paid no benefits. What is being proposed now by United Auto Workers is considerably broader than the plan which American Motors adopted.

Analysis of the relationship between employers and employes in large industries would disclose that profit-sharing plans have been successfully introduced in many businesses but that they involve recognition of management's problems when it faces a bad year.

It is hardly likely that large companies would agree to a profit-sharing plan which would require a fixed percentage of the profits to be given to employes each year, irrespective of total earnings. This would interfere with a company's planning for the future and particularly its accumulation of a surplus, out of which expansion or improvement of plant is financed.

The principle of profit-sharing involves reciprocity—a mutual recognition of the fact that risks are taken in business operations and that, if there is a plan for sharing profits, there must also be some way to share losses, or at least not to increase wages during years in which profits are shrinking.

For New York's 92 Votes

Rockefeller Declaration Buoys Hopes For Romney

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's fresh disavowal of presidential ambitions bouyed hopes of George Romney's supporters that the Michigan governor will get New York's 92 votes at the 1968 Republican convention.

In both moderate and conservative party circles Rockefeller's declaration Wednesday that he has attained a "sense of fulfillment" and no longer is interested in going after the presidential nomination was accepted as defining his present intentions.

But there were quick reservations that shifting political tides —particularly if Romney should falter in the presidential primaries next spring—could force the New York governor to change his mind about becoming available.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., a former GOP national chairman who is plugging for the nomination of a moderate, said he doesn't for one moment question Rockefeller's sincerity.

"I've known for months that he will not seek the nomination, but he is going to do everything he can for Romney," Morton said. "But I still maintain that if the convention delegates seek the man it will be a different bill of goods."

Rockefeller himself shrugged off the possibility of a draft, saying, "I'm not convinced these things happen."

Rockefeller's statements to AP correspondent Relman Morin in a New York interview reassured the Romney camp that the Michigan governor's Eastern moderate base is not about to crumble at a trying political time.

Rockefeller voiced the opinion that Romney may be able to convert into an asset what politicians generally regard as Romney's blundering assertion that he was "brainwashed" by Johnson Administration officials on a 1965 visit to Vietnam.

That statement contributed to the Detroit News' suggesion that Romney turn the wheel of his campaign bandwagon over to Rockefeller. The New York Times called Rockefeller his party's strongest candidate.

Pledging continued support for Romney, Rockefeller said he had passed a psychological turning point and had reached "fulfillment" with his re-election as governor.

"Something happens in life and you lose ambition because you have a sense of fulfillment," he said. "I have no ambition—no inner drive—to get in this thing again."

GOP May Ask Gov. Shafer To Halt Tour

HARRISBURG (AP) — The tax dilemma in the legislature has reached the point where some Republican leaders are considering asking Gov. Shafer to break off his Euopean tour and fly home ahead of schedule.

Shafer left Harrisburg last week for Europe to drum up trade for Pennsylvania. His schedule does not call for him to return until Thursday.

A Shafer aide telephoned the governor late Wednesday. No decision was reached on curtailing the tour, but further telephone contacts were planned.

The Senate, meeting alone Wednesday, adjourned for the week after failing to come up with the 26 votes necessary to pass the House - passed tax bills on cigarettes and corporate net incomes.

The bills are expected to generate $128 million in new revenue this fiscal year.

The House had quit Tuesday. Both Republican - controlled chambers will return Monday. A showdown vote on the tax bills in the Senate is a possibility next week.

Republicans have 26 members in the Senate, but two GOP members are holding out on the tax bills and minority Democrats reportedly solidly oppose the measures.

The Senate moved the tax bills into position for a final vote, but in light of the impasse in the Republican caucus, the chamber decided to quit for the week.

Before adjourning, the Senate insisted on its amendments to two House-passed civil rights bills dealing with open housing and fair employment.

As a result, the bills went into a legislative conference committee composed of three members from each house for the purpose of compromise.

Rhodes Turns 58

Patrol Reports 2 Minor Mishaps

Only two minor accidents were reported Wednesday by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon, neither resulting in injury or arrests.

George R. Ruscoe, 24, of New Waterford escaped unharmed when his compact left Route 517 west of Route 7 at 11 p.m. yesterday, continued along the west side of the roadway for 60 feet, re-entered the highway and left it again, finally coming to rest against an embankment.

Earlier, autos driven by Howard L. Buxton,, 20, and Martha M. Needs, 24, both of Salineville, collided on Route 164 south of Lisbon as Buxton attempted to pass the other car. Reports state that a northbound car forced the man to apply his brakes and he slid into the woman's 1966 coach.

Youth Faces Charge As Result Of Wreck

An area youth was charged with reckless driving by Hancock County deputies Wednesday after he lost control of his auto and it left the highway on Fairview Rd. near Horseshoe Bend.

Franklin E. Ferguson of RD 1 told deputies he entered the curve at a too high rate of speed and was unable to control his 1961 sedan, which was demolished.

Shafer Takes Mission To Milan, Italy

MILAN, Italy (AP) — A 15-member Pennsylvania trade mission headed by Gov. Raymond P. Shafer arrived in this Italian industrial capital Wednesday night from Frankfurt for a series of business meetings with Milanese businessmen.

Soon after arrival the delegation held a reception for local tourist officials to whom it showed a bried film on the sights of Pennsylvania.

The delegation, which will stay in Milan until next Sunday, will start on a busy schedule of private meetings Thursday.

The meetings included a visit to the American Trade Center, talks with Milanese industrialists and a visit to Milan's international fair of household appliances.

Shafer was introduced to the guests by the American consul-general in Milan, Earl T. Crain.

"I am glad to be here," Shafer told the tourist agents in Italian, "and I hope to establish better relations between Italy and Pennsylvania."

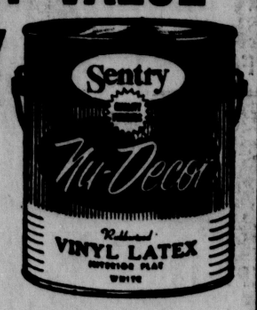

He praised Italians back home "for the great contribution they are giving to our state" and expressed a belief that a better understanding — also made through tourism — "will greatly benefit all of us."

He concluded by saying "If you have any problem, please call the governor's office."

Thursday, the governor's schedule includes visits to a television show and a meeting with officials of the Olivetti firm.

Conflicting Stories Stem From Accident

Conflicting stories resulted from an accident reported by Wellsville police at 4th and Main Sts. Tuesday at 1:35 p.m.

The mishap involved a car driven by Norma Jean Rogers, 33, of Hammondsville RD 1 and Thomas J. Aleksiejczyk, 25, of Steubenville, who was driving a produce truck owned by Lou Sable & Co. of Weirton.

Aleksiejczyk claimed the Rogers car backed into him while he was making a right turn. The woman motorist claimed Aleksijczyk hit her car while he was making the turn. Both have witnesses and no arrest was made, police said.

Concern Is Expressed In Cafeteria Situation

The administration and board of education of the Southern Local schools expressed concern during a meeting Wednesday night over the fact that only 35 of 126 students attending Franklin Elementary School are eating their lunch in the cafeteria.

Supt. Thomas Leek said the service will be continued even at a prohibitive cost, but is "more worried" about the youngsters not having a hot meal at noon.

A report on the opening of school revealed 1,460 students enrolled, up 60 from last year.

Dennis Miller was hired to teach the fifth grade at Salineville Elementary. Other contracts approved include those of Evelyn Rose as bus driver and Elaine Jarvis as secretary at Salineville Elementary.

Action on the new salary schedule was tabled until the board attends a meeting Tuesday at Cadiz to hear an explanation of salary requirements under the School Foundation Law.

The board will give consideration to a recommendation by Leek that new rooms be added to the high school. Leek said classes now are being held in a book storage room and clinic and with more students expected the problem is due to become worse. Action was tabled pending future study.

Three new school buses are expected within three weeks and the recent bus inspection was termed "very satisfactory."

A. E. Solomon was appointed federal coordinator in addition to his teaching duties.

Permission was given to purchase a mower for a school tractor at a cost of $138, three dozen folding desk chairs and a used truck for use by the bus mechanic at a cost of $265.

A contract for fuel oil went to the Saline Oil Co., which offered furnace oil for 11.5 cents per gallon. Four bids were received

A new furnace at Franklin School will be in operation next week.

The board also adopted the truancy policy recommended by Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin.

Charles Allison presided.

Toronto Driver Fined On Speeding Charges

James R. Nelson, 55, of Toronto was fined $15 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to an Ohio Highway Patrol charge of speeding 60 mles an hour Friday on Route 7.

William S. Damewood, 27, of Stratton, was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motorcycle without a headlight. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff dismissed a second charge of operating a vehicle without an Ohio driver's license, determining that Damewood's legal residence is in Princeton, W. Va. Damewood was cited by the patrol Sunday on Route 7.

Ronald L. Gunn of Burgettstown forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of speeding 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on E. 3rd St. He was cited today at 2:43 a.m. by Patrolman Jack Strobel

Esther Bernardi Marries In Midland Church Rites

MRS. JOHN WIECHNIK
Puerto Rico Honeymoon.

Before an altar arrangement of white mums and gladioli, Miss Esther Bernardi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Bernardi of Penn Ave., Midland, became the bride of John T. Wiechnik, son of Mrs. Anna Wiechnik of Trenton, N.J., Sept. 2 at the Midland Presentation Catholic Church.

Fr. Anthony Gagliardo of New York, a cousin of the bride, performed the double-ring ceremony. The bride placed a bouquet of white carnations and baby breaths before the altar of the Blessed Mother.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of silk organza and lace styled with an empire bodice, scoop neckline and elbow-length sleeves. It also featured a chapel train. The bouffant French illusion veil was held in place by a rose and silk illusion petals. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, carnations, stephanotis and trailing ivy, and a lace handkerchief belonging to her paternal grandmother, Mrs. John Bernardi. The bride observed wedding traditions, including a sixpence in her shoe given to her by her sister, Paula Bernardi.

Linda DiMaggio of Washington, D.C., maid of honor, wore a yellow chiffon gown designed with scooped neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of bronze fugi mums.

Thomas Wiechnik of Trenton, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Frank Wiechnik, also of Trenton, another brother, was an usher. Christopher Krupa of Trenton, nephew of the bridegroom, served as ringbearer.

—:—

A RECEPTION followed the ceremony at the St. Anthony Club in Midland, with a buffet-style dinner.

The bride is a graduate of Midland High School and was employed in the Navy Department at Washington. Her husband is a graduate of Hamilton High School, Trenton, and served in the Army. He is employed by the American Standard Corp. at Trenton.

Following a brief stay at Cedar Point, Ohio, the newlyweds are spending the remainder of their honeymoon at Puerto Rico. They will reside at Trenton.

Miss Ann Overturf Weds In Double-Ring Services

Baskets of golden yellow mums adorned the St. Sebastian Church in Utica, Ohio, Saturday as Miss Ann Overturf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Overturf of Utica, became the bride of John J. Riedel Jr., son of Mrs. John J. Riedel Sr. of Akron and the late Mr. Riedel, during a double - ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a linen gown with empire bodice, A-line skirt accented with motifs of Venice lace on the bodice and skirt. A chapel - length train, designed by the bride, flowed from the neckline and a shoulder - length veil also was worn. She carried a cascade of orchids and chrysanthemums.

HER MATRON of honor, Mrs. Robert Cochran of Utica, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaid, Mrs. William Shuff of Centersburg, Ohio, both wore burnt orange empire-style floor length A-line gowns with contrasting print sash. They carried a cascade of golden mums.

Michael Ahern of Brockport, N. Y., was best man. The ushers were Dr. Howard Johnson of Pittsburgh, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a dress of olive crepe with yellow mums and the bridegroom's mother wore a dark brown and beige cotton eyelet ensemble with yellow mums.

MRS. JOHN RIEDEL Jr.
Will Reside In Salem.

Goodyear Metropolitan Park in Akron.

A rehearsal party was given at the Holiday Inn, Akron, by the bridegroom's mother.

The bride, a graduate of Ohio State University, was the Columbiana County Extension home economist the past year.

Her husband, a returning Vietnam veteran, is a student at Akron University.

Following a New England honeymoon, the couple will reside at 410 N. Benton Rd., Salem.

Presiding at the tea table will be Mrs. Hanna Colquit, Mrs. Lucille McKeever, and Mrs. Luevenia Adams of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Carrie Belle McCauley of Midland, Mrs. Mary Tucker of Wellsville and Mrs. Mary Carter of East Liverpool.

Couple Resides In Akron After Rites On Aug. 19

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Parsons have returned from a honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains and are residing in Akron following their marriage Aug. 19 in St. Anthony's Church, Youngstown.

The bride was Miss Sue Dane Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Montgomery of Wyoming Ave., Glenmoor. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Parsons of 1015 Claybourne Ave.

Fr. Anthony Esposito, chaplain at Youngstown State University, officiated for the doublering ceremony.

The newlyweds are 1963 graduates of East Liverpool High School and 1967 graduates of Youngstown university, where they majored in elementary education.

Mrs. Parsons will teach kindergarten at the Mason School and her husband sixth grade at Leggett Elementary School, both in Akron.

Ex-Big Leaguer Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Joseph Bernard Stanley, 86, who pitched in a major league baseball game at age 16, died Wednesday after a two-year illness. Stanley pitched one game against Cincinnati in 1897 before returning to the minors. He returned to the big leagues in 1902 and played in 202 games with the Boston Braves and Chicago Cubs.

Kaycee Council Here To Join In Youth Program

A delegation from Fr. Thome Council 5885 of the Knights of Columbus will participate in tonight's kickoff rally at Wellsville on behalf of the statewide youth program.

The area meeting will begin at 7 in the K. of C. hall.

Among other topics discussed at the Tuesday night meeting was a donation to the St. Aloysius School football team.

Frank A. Arcuri, deputy and general program chairman, who will head the youth drive for the council, explained the mechanics of the campaign and revealed plans by which the state drive hopes to realize funds for distribution to various college and university Newman Centers.

The money will be used "for education, recreation and to perpetuate the general well being of youth," he said.

Arcuri reported on the success of a recent family picnic at Rock Springs Park.

Fr. William H. Hohman, council chaplain and pastor of St. Ann's Church, spoke briefly. He also gave the invocation and benediction.

The next regular meeting will be Sept. 26 at 7:30 p. m. A six-point chairman's meeting will be held next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. with Arcuri of Hollywood Dr.

Pastor To Be Honored With Nightly Services

Almost nightly services will be held Friday through Sept. 24 during an anniversary observance of the pastorate of the Rev. Vanable Samuel, of the Church of the Living God, 343 Beaver Ave., Midland.

The services, being sponsored by the Pastor's Aid Society, will begin at 7:30, except this Sunday and Sept. 24, when they will be held at 3 p.m. and 3:30 p.m., respectively. The choirs and congregations of each of the participating ministers' churches will attend.

Sermons will be delivered as follow: Friday, the Rev. James Curry of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church of Weirton; Sunday, the Rev. Francis Vreen of the Faith Temple Church of God in Christ.

Sept. 18, the Rev. Eugene E. Robertson of Lee's Chapel AME Church, Wellsville; Sept. 19, the Rev. W. L. Harris of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church, Midland.

Sept. 20, the Rev. Sam Sallis, Holiness Church of Christ Deliverance Center, Fairview; Sept. 21, the Rev. E. H. Harris of the Second Baptist Church, East Liverpool.

Sept. 22, the Rev. Albert Ross, New Hope Baptist Church, East Liverpool; Sept. 24, the Rev. Paul A. McClennon, First Baptist Church, Midland.

Mrs. Helen Barlow is president of the Pastor's Aid Society. She is being assisted by Mrs. Eula Lake.

Offices To Be Closed In Tribute To Millsop

Hancock County offices will close at 2 p. m. Friday in line with a resolution adopted Wednesday by the county commissioners following the death of Thomas E. Millsop.

The resolution, in part, stated "Mr. Millsop has exhibited exemplary leadership to and compassion for our county, state and nation, and his departure shall forever leave a void incapable of being filled."

In addition, flags will fly at half staff in the county Friday.

Annual Concert Set For Sunday By Tamburitzans

The fifth annual concert of the Midland St. George Tamburitzans will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Lincoln High School auditorium.

Guest performers will be the St. Anthony Tamburitzans of Farrell.

Donaid Knezevich is director of the "Tammies," while John Lazich of Farrell will direct the St. Anthony group.

Knezevich said this year's program will feature new skits and dances and new authentic costumes.

Committee chairmen for the event are the Very Rev. Milorad Dobrota, program; Mrs. Joseph Vuynovich, orchestra; Mrs. George Studen, tickets; Michael Raich, dance; Mrs. Nick Tepavich, dinner, and Mrs. Marko Yandrich, publicity.

Lou Michaels holds five Steeler's records. He scored 110 points and kicked 26 field goals, twice four in a game, in 1962, and attempted 41 field goals and kicked one 50 yards in 1963.

well as from existing plants will be made available to the partners through an extra high voltage transmission network at 345,000 volts. Part of this network is already in existence, but will be substantially strengthened and extended by the plan announced today.

The five companies presently have a generating capacity of 7,900,000 kilowatts. Together with generating additions previously announced and already under construction, completion of the new units announced today will bring the total capacity of the five companies to about 13,000,000 kilowatts.

THE SYSTEMS of the five companies have been interconnected with each other as well as with neighboring utilities for many years. Officials said the new agreement "greatly enhances the interconnection potentials to be realized through close coordination of operations and includes plans to take advantage of most efficient operation and to interchange power for maintenance and to meet emergencies."

"The first unit scheduled for construction," Mansfield pointed out "will be Unit 7 at the Sammis plant. Currently there are under construction two units at this plant — one of 300,000 kilowatts and one of 600,000 kilowatts — and upon completion of these two units the plant will be the largest generating station in Ohio. With the completion in 1971 of Unit 7 under the five-company pooling arrangement, the plant will have a capacity in excess of 2,200,000 kilowatts.

"Ohio Edison's ownership of more than half of the Shippingport unit to be constructed by Duquesne Light will be Ohio Edison's first nuclear generating facility. As a member of the East Central Nuclear Group and other research organizations the company, of course, has for sometime been exploring the opportunities involved in atomic energy."

The CAPCO is a sub-regional group of the East Central Area Reliability Coordination group (ECAR) formed last January by 23 companies.

The ECAR agreement has as its objective achieving a new high in reliability of bulk power supply in the eight - state area served by the 23 utilities. The ECAR agreement also contemplated such arrangements as the newly - announced CAPCO project for construction of generation and transmission facilities, mutual assistance, and an interchange of electric capacity and energy for the improvement of service and economy.

have them taught at East Palestine. Monday parents of the area kept over 90 per cent of all students from school at Negley and East Palestine.

The board at a meeting Monday night stood firm on its decision, and all students returned to class Tuesday.

An earlier Review story incorrectly indicated Atty. James Allison of East Palestine, president of the board of education, had a son in the fourth grade at East Palestine. Allison has a son in the second grade.

Stewart Dyke, Middleton Township trustee, attended last night's meeting for some time to offer information about proposed guard protection for Negley students along Route 154 at the school. However, he left the meeting before the group could begin discussion on that matter.

No further meetings were scheduled by the group.

Chief Gibson filed the charges against the couple yesterday. Judge Edward Greenamyer of County Northwest Court at Salem last night set bond at $2,500 each. Gibson said he expects the defendants to post bond today.

Charged with the attempted holdup are James T. Martin, 31, of Poland and James Black, 32, of New Castle. Both were wounded when Fr. Beldue pulled a .25 caliber pistol and fired six times. Black remains in St. Francis Hospital, New Castle, with a stomach wound. A bullet grazed the priest's head during the exchange in the rectory kitchen.

said, "We haven't moved a pound of steel today."

The U.S. Steel Corp. said pickets had a disruptive effect at its Irvin, Pa., works. Pickets at its Lorain (Ohio) works stopped steel hauling by 50 to 60 trucks a day there.

A judge granted an injunction to halt picketing at a Sharon Steel Corp. plant and a hearing was on tap for a similar action filed by the Copperweld Steel Corp.

The Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. reported "some inconvenience on our westbound shipments."

Midland Steel said truck shipments were "off pace" and Youngstown Sheet & Tube said it was shipping some steel by rail.

—:—

THE STRIKE started three weeks ago at Gary, Ind., and has spread to several states. The drivers, many of them members of the Teamsters Union, own their own trucks, valued at about $32,000 each, and haul steel under a national contract. They want better terms.

Under the agreement, according to a trucking company spokesman, the driver - owner gets about $180 out of the average cost of $240 for hauling a load of steeel from Pittsburgh to Indiana.

The drivers want a bigger cut, $15 an hour after a two - hour wait at a mill to have their trucks loaded and $10 for pulling a tarpaulin over the load, the spokesman said.

The judge set a hearing for Thursday on a similar petition from Copperweld Steel concerning that firm's Warren plant.

—:—

IN CANTON, Stark County Common Pleas Judge William R. Quinn set a hearing on a petition filed by Macomber, Inc., a division of Sharon Steel. Macomber is asking an injunction against picketing and $50,000 damages.

Judge Quinn granted a temporary injunction Wednesday to Republic Steel barring picketing at its Canton and Massillon plants. Republic also is asking $35,000 damages.

A similar action was filed by Republic in Cleveland.

In Mahoning County, Common Pleas Judge Sidney Rigelhaupt issued a temporary restraining order against picketing at Youngstown Sheet and Tube and U.S. Steel plants.

"I am in the dark to a certain extent, not being too familiar with courtroom procedures," the mayor added. "But we are making an investigation and we should have some conclusions shortly."

—:—

THE MAYOR said in response to a question that he has not talked with Bettis since the grand jury's report was issued.

He said his first efforts are centering on determining what led to the charges and then learning the police department's position.

Bettis said at Lisbon that the prosecutor's office for several years has appealed to the chief of police to see that criminal cases are complete for presentation to the grand jury. The prosecutor said he also talked to the mayor and received assurance something would be done.

Bettis said none of the cases presented to his office for the last grand jury was adequately prepared. "Some did not even list witnesses for us to call," he added. He said he so advised the chief before the grand jury session began.

Bettis said two previous grand juries wanted to cite the East Liverpool department for careless investigation, but he persuaded them not to. He said both times he told the chief of the jury's intended action and asked him to correct the situation.

BETTIS SAID the department has several capable officers, "but others are young and inexperienced." He mentioned the "excellent" investigation prepared by Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice in the VFW burglary some time ago. The lieutenant has had training at the FBI School, Bettis noted.

The prosecutor said he has offered the services of his office to the East Liverpool force, but has had no calls for assistance. He said special investigator James (Ronnie) Gause is available to help investigate major crimes and the East Liverpool police know they can order photographs in criminal cases and charge them to the prosecutor's "furtherance of justice" fund.

Bettis said he understands the city administration discourages overtime pay for policeman. He said it is impossible to get any continuity of investigation when officers "drop everything" at the end of an eight - hour turn.

Bettis said he would like to sit down with the mayor, safety director and chief of police and try to find an answer. He said he would be willing to help set up a course in investigation procedure, but added that the training is really the responsibility of the department itself.

Jim Finks, now general manager of the Minnesota Vikings, holds Steeler single - game records for most passes attempted, completed and thrown for TDs.

Mt. Nebo Grange Names Officers

LISBON — Carl Bailey was elected master of Mt. Nebo Grange Wednesday evening, succeeding Howard Wilhelm. Also elected were:

Charles Morlan, overseer; Wilhelm, lecturer; Mrs. Ella Sebrell, steward; Orren Boehm, assistant steward; Mrs. Lloyd Bailey, chaplain; Guy Frantz, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Morlan, secretary; Homer Nold, gatekeeper; Mrs. Guy Frantz, Ceres; Mrs. Viola Harrold, Pomona; Mrs. Carl Bailey, Flora; Mrs. Orren Boehm, lady assistant steward; Lloyd Bailey executive committee member, and Mrs. Howard Wilhelm, Junior Grange matron.

Twenty - three attended the subordinate and junior meetings. The installation of Pomona Grange and Clarkson Grange officers at 8:30 p. m. Saturday at Clarkson Grange was announced. Lunch was served.

1,130 Pennsylvanians Face November Draft

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Selective Service will call 1,130 young Pennsylvanians for the draft in November. The national call will be for 22,000 men. In October, Pennsylvania is to supply 995 conscripts for a national draft of 17,000.

$6,000 Drive Launched For Chester's City Park

A campaign for $6,000 for aiding in programs at the Chester City Park and further development of the park has been launched by the Park Commission.

Letters will be sent to businesses, industries and others seeking support for the fund drive.

Included in future plans are addition of an area for basketball courts and shuffleboard for summer recreation, with filling of the site for ice skating in the winter.

The park, begun in 1957, has been a community project under the coordinating guidance of the Commission. Commission members said despite earlier fund raising projects and the efforts of many volunteers, the park still has only "bare essentials."

The park has been used for baseball, softball, football, dances, concerts and church services, it was pointed out, and is especially a place for young people's activites, to help make them better citizens and combat delinquency.

Miss Sara Thomas, secretary, said checks can be made payable to the City Park Commission and mailed to her at 569 Virginia Ave.

Dances for young people will continue at the park, with "The Living Ends" to play for the event Saturday at 8.

War Hero Dies

EASTON, Conn. (AP) — Varian Fry, 59, leader of a group that helped some 1,500 persons escape from German-occupied France during 1940-41, was found dead in his home Wednesday, apparently of natural causes. Fry, a writer and teacher, worked in France as representative of the Emergency Relief Committee, predecessor to the International Rescue Committee.

The next meeting will be Nov. 14 at 8 p. m. following an "open house" at 7.

Pending Actions Fall Off Slightly

LISBON — Columbiana County's two courts of Common Pleas last month disposed of 97 cases, or six more than filed in the same period.

The number of cases pending dropped from 894 on Aug. 1 to 888 Aug. 31.

Thirty of the 91 new cases filed are divorce actions, 54 civil suits and 7 criminal cases.

Sixty-four cases — 30 divorce actions and 34 civil cases — were settled or dismissed in August. The other dispositions were 18 cases tried to court and 15 cognovit judgments.

Seven county cases are pending before the Seventh District Court of Appeals.

Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey prepares the monthly statistical report for the Ohio Supreme Court.

Prescriptions are personal! Unlike automobiles, appliances or packaged food stuffs, each prescription is written by your doctor for you alone — to correct a set of health circumstances that are individually yours. Your pharmacist, too, handles your prescription on a purely individual basis . . compounding it to your own personal needs.

That's why you want to entrust so important, so personal a task to your Dynamic Discount pharmacist, who considers your health and safety not only as a professional pharmacist and employee of a reputable firm, but as his own direct, personal individual responsibility as a man.

That extra margin of safety that personal responsibility assures you, does not mean that prescription prices are high at Dynamic Discount. They aren't! We guarantee the lowest prices in town! Yet, we won't take any of the risky "short-cuts" in handling prescriptions that are currently being tried in other cities. Eliminating just some of the "double check" prescriptions we use here at Dynamic Discount could save us both money, but we honestly don't think you want to take any such chances with your health and safety.

You'll save money at Dynamic Discount — but you'll save it safely . . for our prescription prices are always the lowest possible consistent with the highest professional quality standards and our great personal regard for the safety of your health.

Toward Route 7 Relocation

Wellsville Will Receive All Of $50,000 'Credit'

Wellsville will receive the full $50,000 credit Columbiana County has with the Ohio Highway Department.

County commissioners adopted a resolution Aug. 28 dividing the credit equally between Wellsville and Salem for state highway improvements within their boundaries.

Levi Kimball, deputy director of the department's Division 11 at New Philadelphia, told the commissioners Monday the state cannot apply $25,000 credit to Salem since the Route 558 (Franklin Ave.) paving job has been completed and no other state jobs are under way in the city. Salem paid $230,000 as its share of the Franklin Ave. work.

Commissioners yesterday rescinded their vote on the Wellsville split and adopted a resolution prepared by Kimball, enabling the county to contribute $50,000 toward the Route 7 relocation in Wellsville without any outlay of money.

In a letter attached to the resolution, Kimball commented, "this will be greatly appreciated by Wellsville as it is required to obtain a $50,000 lump sum contribution toward construction of the project and pay an annual lump sum of $3,000 toward maintenance of the highway after it is completed. We will submit separate legislation to Wellsville for enactment by Council for this annual $3,000 maintenance contribution."

In order to compensate Salem for loss of the credit, commissioners voted to give the city $25,000 credit from county road funds for improvement of county roads inside city limits.

John Ursu of Salem, county engineer, said one such project being planned is the improvement of C. R. 400 (Georgetown Rd.). Some of the city's share of credit could apply to the improvement from the city limits north to Route 62 (W. State St.), he said.

Other jobs on which the credit could apply will follow the Georgetown Rd. project, Ursu said. He mentioned C. R. 409 (Jennings Ave.) and C. R. 410 (Depot Rd.).

Toward Route 7 Relocation

Wellsville Will Receive All Of $50,000 'Credit'

Wellsville will receive the full $50,000 credit Columbiana County has with the Ohio Highway Department.

County commissioners adopted a resolution Aug. 28 dividing the credit equally between Wellsville and Salem for state highway improvements within their boundaries.

Levi Kimball, deputy director of the department's Division 11 at New Philadelphia, told the commissioners Monday the state cannot apply $25,000 credit to Salem since the Route 558 (Franklin Ave.) paving job has been completed and no other state jobs are under way in the city. Salem paid $230,000 as its share of the Franklin Ave. work.

Commissioners yesterday rescinded their vote on the Wellsville split and adopted a resolution prepared by Kimball, enabling the county to contribute $50,000 toward the Route 7 relocation in Wellsville without any outlay of money.

In a letter attached to the resolution, Kimball commented, "this will be greatly appreciated by Wellsville as it is required to obtain a $50,000 lump sum contribution toward construction of the project and pay an annual lump sum of $3,000 toward maintenance of the highway after it is completed. We will submit separate legislation to Wellsville for enactment by Council for this annual $3,000 maintenance contribution."

In order to compensate Salem for loss of the credit, commissioners voted to give the city $25,000 credit from county road funds for improvement of county roads inside city limits.

John Ursu of Salem, county engineer, said one such project being planned is the improvement of C. R. 400 (Georgetown Rd.). Some of the city's share of credit could apply to the improvement from the city limits north to Route 62 (W. State St.), he said.

Other jobs on which the credit could apply will follow the Georgetown Rd. project, Ursu said. He mentioned C. R. 409 (Jennings Ave.) and C. R. 410 (Depot Rd.).

Boy Scout News

The advancement of James Mellinger and Robert Hillyard to life Scouts highlighted the family night meeting Monday of Boy Scout Troop 12 at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. A campfire and wiener roast were held.

Both Scouts were presented miniature pins and they in turn "pinned" their mothers. Awards were presented by Dale Thornton, scoutmaster, and Bernard Casto, Robert Mellinger and Don Charleton, assistants. Others who advanced in rank were Andrew Galas, tenderfoot; James Dray, second class, and David Toot, Leon Rubin, Robert Thornton and David Raber, first class.

Robert Poe and Charles Russell were accepted as new scouts. Shawn Sloan was recognized as achieving totemship status for a tree-cutting project.

Schmidt, an Eagle scout, discussed the world jamboree he attended in August at Farragut Park, Idaho. He spread "friendship" ashes on the campfire brought from the jamboree.

A letter of appreciation was read by the Rev. H. Gene Toot from a Pennsylvania Ave. resident on the success of the tree-cutting project along the river bank.

Tom Sloan spoke briefly of a Council camp set for Oct. 13-15 at Tomlinson Run State Park.

The next overnight camp will be Oct. 6-8 at Beaver Creek Presbyterian Church Camp and will feature a conservation program of the Steubenville and Mahoning Presbyteries.

Rev. Toot offered closing prayer.

South Korea Seeks New UN Unit To Supervise Armistice

SEOUL (AP) — The South Korean government plans to ask the U.N. General Assembly to send a new U.N. group to supervise the Korean armistice because of mounting attacks from the Communist North, a ranking government official said today.

"Full and effective supervision of the armed peace in Korea is imperative because of ever-increasing North Korean acts of violence," the official told newsmen after an emergency session of the National Security Council.

President Chung Hee Park called the council together a day after saboteurs believed from the North mined a South U.S. military supplies 10 miles north of Seoul. The explosion wrecked two cars and damaged four. Eight days previously a passenger train 25 miles northeast of Seoul was derailed by an explosion.

U.S. and South Korean officials have accused North Korea of launching an intensified campaign of border attacks and guerrilla sabotage deep in the south since last October when Premier Kim Il-Sung ordered his Communist forces to increase espionage and guerrilla actions.

The U.N. command has reported 245 North Korean soldiers killed or captured in nearly 200 incidents in the past 11 months, while nearly 85 South Korean troops and 20 Americans have been killed.

The U.N. command says there were only eight such actions in 1964 and 27 in 1965.

Intruder Gets Money, Guns And Watches

A burglar escaped with three pistols, three watches, a ring and some silver dollars after ransacking an East Liverpool home in the family's absence Wednesday, police reported.

The entry was reported at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bricker of Maine Blvd. between 8:45 a. m. and 5:15 p. m. The intruder obtained a German - made P-39 pistol, two .32-caliber pistols, a woman's watch valued at $125, two men's watches worth $80 each, a woman's ring of unknown value and some silver dollars, police said.

Entry was gained by cutting a screen on a storm door at the rear of the home, then forcing open the interior door. All the rooms of the house were ransacked in a quest for money, officers said. Police said the family is checking to find if there was any further loss.

In a similar case, Mrs. Katherine Chandler of 912 Alton St., said a thief entered her home between 7:30 and 11:15 a. m. Wednesday and took a purse containing a $10 bill, 30 cents in change, a check book and a Social Security card. Mrs. Chandler said both doors of her home were locked and she was at a neighbor's home when the theft occurred. Officers said they could find no sign of forcible entry.

Meanwhile, Gilbert Beaver of 817 State St. reported to Patrolman Karl Samples that an intruder made an unsuccessful attempt to enter his home between 7:40 a.m. and 4:20 p.m. yesterday. He said a brick was used to break a small pane of glass in a door, but the would-be intruder was unable to manipulate the lock.

William Williams of 745 Garner Ave. told officers two side mirrors were stolen off his small motorcycle while it was parked in Slygo Alley between 4 and 7 p. m. yesterday.

Boy Scout News

The advancement of James Mellinger and Robert Hillyard to life Scouts highlighted the family night meeting Monday of Boy Scout Troop 12 at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. A campfire and wiener roast were held.

Both Scouts were presented miniature pins and they in turn "pinned" their mothers. Awards were presented by Dale Thornton, scoutmaster, and Bernard Casto, Robert Mellinger and Don Charleton, assistants. Others who advanced in rank were Andrew Galas, tenderfoot; James Dray, second class, and David Toot, Leon Rubin, Robert Thornton and David Raber, first class.

Robert Poe and Charles Russell were accepted as new scouts. Shawn Sloan was recognized as achieving totemship status for a tree-cutting project.

Schmidt, an Eagle scout, discussed the world jamboree he attended in August at Farragut Park, Idaho. He spread "friendship" ashes on the campfire brought from the jamboree.

A letter of appreciation was read by the Rev. H. Gene Toot from a Pennsylvania Ave. resident on the success of the tree-cutting project along the river bank.

Tom Sloan spoke briefly of a Council camp set for Oct. 13-15 at Tomlinson Run State Park.

The next overnight camp will be Oct. 6-8 at Beaver Creek Presbyterian Church Camp and will feature a conservation program of the Steubenville and Mahoning Presbyteries.

Rev. Toot offered closing prayer.

South Korea Seeks New UN Unit To Supervise Armistice

SEOUL (AP) — The South Korean government plans to ask the U.N. General Assembly to send a new U.N. group to supervise the Korean armistice because of mounting attacks from the Communist North, a ranking government official said today.

"Full and effective supervision of the armed peace in Korea is imperative because of ever-increasing North Korean acts of violence," the official told newsmen after an emergency session of the National Security Council.

President Chung Hee Park called the council together a day after saboteurs believed from the North mined a South U.S. military supplies 10 miles north of Seoul. The explosion wrecked two cars and damaged four. Eight days previously a passenger train 25 miles northeast of Seoul was derailed by an explosion.

U.S. and South Korean officials have accused North Korea of launching an intensified campaign of border attacks and guerrilla sabotage deep in the south since last October when Premier Kim Il-Sung ordered his Communist forces to increase espionage and guerrilla actions.

The U.N. command has reported 245 North Korean soldiers killed or captured in nearly 200 incidents in the past 11 months, while nearly 85 South Korean troops and 20 Americans have been killed.

The U.N. command says there were only eight such actions in 1964 and 27 in 1965.

Intruder Gets Money, Guns And Watches

A burglar escaped with three pistols, three watches, a ring and some silver dollars after ransacking an East Liverpool home in the family's absence Wednesday, police reported.

The entry was reported at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bricker of Maine Blvd. between 8:45 a. m. and 5:15 p. m. The intruder obtained a German - made P-39 pistol, two .32-caliber pistols, a woman's watch valued at $125, two men's watches worth $80 each, a woman's ring of unknown value and some silver dollars, police said.

Entry was gained by cutting a screen on a storm door at the rear of the home, then forcing open the interior door. All the rooms of the house were ransacked in a quest for money, officers said. Police said the family is checking to find if there was any further loss.

In a similar case, Mrs. Katherine Chandler of 912 Alton St., said a thief entered her home between 7:30 and 11:15 a. m. Wednesday and took a purse containing a $10 bill, 30 cents in change, a check book and a Social Security card. Mrs. Chandler said both doors of her home were locked and she was at a neighbor's home when the theft occurred. Officers said they could find no sign of forcible entry.

Meanwhile, Gilbert Beaver of 817 State St. reported to Patrolman Karl Samples that an intruder made an unsuccessful attempt to enter his home between 7:40 a.m. and 4:20 p.m. yesterday. He said a brick was used to break a small pane of glass in a door, but the would-be intruder was unable to manipulate the lock.

William Williams of 745 Garner Ave. told officers two side mirrors were stolen off his small motorcycle while it was parked in Slygo Alley between 4 and 7 p. m. yesterday.

The University of Cincinnati football team scored 124 points vs. Transylvania in 1912. Ike Stewart scored 51 points in that game.

Ohio Traffic Mishaps Take 8 More Lives

By The Associated Press

Several young men, including two Washington Court House youths whose car collided with a truck early today, are among Ohio's latest traffic fatalities.

The latest victims:

Carroll D. Deiver, 20, and Marvin D. Penwell, 19, both of Washington Court House.

Oakley C. Haley, 25, near Millville.

Pretence Everett, 67, New Philadelphia.

Rose Mannino, 52, Patchogue, N.Y.

Terry A. Skinner, 19, Sisterville, W. Va.

Greg Wesenberger, 20, South Webster.

William M. Angell, 34, Dayton.

Deiver and Penwell were in a car that collided with a semi-trailer early today on U. S. 35 six miles northwest of Washington Court House. A highway patrolman who saw the wreck said the car, driven by Deiver, went out of control on a curve.

Haley was killed near his home about midnight Wednesday when his car collided with a truck on U. S. 27 in Butler County.

Everett died in a Dover Hospital Wednesday night of injuries received Sept. 3 when struck by a car on a New Philadelphia street.

The New York woman was injured fatally Wednesday when two cars crashed on the Ohio Turnpike near Elyria.

Skinner was killed Wednesday when the tractor he was riding rolled backwards down a hill and flipped over on a rural road near Marietta.

Wesenberger was killed Wednesday when his car crashed off Ohio 150 near South Webster in Scioto County.

Angell died about midnight Wednesday when his pickup truck struck a bridge abutment on a rural road in Montgomery County.

4-H News

A project talk on the customs, habits and life of the American Indians was presented by John Mayhew and Fred Miller during the meeting of the Pioneeer Senior 4-H Club Monday in the Pughtown Christian Church.

A portion of Psalm 27 was read by Chuck Gracie and Ed Gracie led the group in the Lord's Prayer.

"West Virginia Boys and Girls" and the "4-H Pledge" were led by Fred Miller.

The treasurer reported a balance of $97.43.

It was voted to pay the $1.75 per person to attend the annual Achievement Banquet at the Weirton Community Center Sept. 25. The motion was seconded by Terri Arehart.

Shirley Halley announced that National 4-H Club Week will be Sept. 30 through Oct. 7 and offered several suggestions as to how members might observe the week.

It was announced that anyone wishing to contribute to the Dorothy Arehart Memorial Fund may make a check payable to the 4-H Foundation and note on it that the check is for the fund. All contributions are tax deductible. Checks may be mailed to Iris Cuppy, New Cumberland RD 1.

Shirley Halley was appointed by president John Mayhew to see whether or not Jim Arehart would serve as the club's leader.

The winner of the 4-H jacket offered by the club for the highest project score is Susan Jones, who received a 98.5 on her project, "Clothes For a Season." The jacket will be presented to her during the meeting Oct. 16.

Refreshments were served by Tim Lawson.

Sinatra Has 2 Teeth Fixed After 'Punch'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Frank Sinatra's upper lip was still swollen and bruised and he had prefabricated porcelain jackets on two front teeth today.

Dr. A.B. Weinstein, a New York City dentist, fitted the jackets after being flown to California to treat the entertainer injured by a Las Vegas, Nev., casino executive.

"We worked for about three hours or more," the dentist said Wednesday. "Frank is usually nervous, but he was just marvelous. He's that way when the chips are down."

Sinatra reportedly was hit by an official of the Sands Hotel during an incident Sunday that ended the singer's long association with the resort.

First Officers Selected For Wives' Group

Mrs. Thomas E. Sell of Wellsville was elected the first permanent president when the "Waiting Wives Club" met Tuesday night in the Red Cross rooms at Mary Patterson Memorial.

Mrs. Roland Reed has been serving as temporary chairman of the organization, which was launched in June.

Also named as officers were: Mrs. William A. Williams of East Liverpool, vice president; Mrs. Clayton Anders of Chester, secretary, and Mrs. Raymond K. Jennings of East Liverpool, treasurer.

Mrs. Reed received a gift in appreciation for her services in the organization of the group. She will leave the community soon with her husband, who recently returned from a tour of duty in Vietnam.

Mrs. Ann Overturff Riedel, county home economist, will be guest speaker at the meeting Oct. 10. Her topic will be "budgeting." A Halloween party will be held with Mrs. Cecil Grimes in October.

The dues also were agreed upon during the meeting. The group will assist the Red Cross chapter in packing its quota of kit bags for Christmas gifts for servicemen in Vietnam.

Sgt. Edward Valor, Army recruiter, screened the film "The Why of Vietnam."

Officers Report Decline In Local Traffic Mishaps

East Liverpool police investigated 56 traffic mishaps in August, a drop of seven from July's 63, it was shown today in the monthly summary of departmental activity.

One person died in August traffic in the city and six were injured, including two pedestrians. Officers logged 881 radio transmissions and made 83 arrests, including three for driving while intoxicated.

Nineteen casualty reports were filed on persons injured or taken ill on the streets or at their homes. Three persons were reported missing, but all later were located. Six cars were reported stolen. Two still are missing. Fifteen autos were towed off streets.

The department reported 17 burglaries, 29 cases of petty theft and 21 cases of vandalism.

Boy's Scalp Hurt In East End Fight

A 9-year-old East End boy was treated at City Hospital about 6 p.m. Wednesday for a long laceration of the scalp which he said was suffered when he was attacked by four older boys while on Pennsylvania Ave. near Harker Ave.

Frederick Delbert Hull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Hull Jr. of 1165 Harker Ave., told police he was at play on Pennsylvania Ave. when the other boys "starting pushing and shoving" him. In the struggle, he said, his head struck a pole, causing the laceration across the top of his head.

Ten stitches were required to close the wound, officers said. The boy named two of his assailants and gave police descriptions of the other two.

Home Tours Set By Lisbon Group

Plans were launched Tuesday evening during the monthly meeting in the Old Stone House, with President Richard T. Mason in charge.

The Old Stone House — the society's museum — has had more than 1,300 visitors this summer. It will be open Saturdays and Sundays this month and the first part of October. Women of the East Palestine Country Club will visit here Sept. 27 and two busloads from the Canton YWCA are due Oct. 12.

Officers remind members and friends the society will sponsor a sale in the former Park Ave. market storeroom during the village flea market Sept. 23 on the Square.

Charged With Murder

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A first-degree murder charge was filed by police Wednesday against Harold White, 31, accused in the fatal shooting early Saturday morning of 23-year-old Austin Coleman. Both are from Toledo.

Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced Wednesday that an Ohio Marine Lance Cpl. Samuel Parker, Columbus, has been killed in action in Vietnam.

First Officers Selected For Wives' Group

Mrs. Thomas E. Sell of Wellsville was elected the first permanent president when the "Waiting Wives Club" met Tuesday night in the Red Cross rooms at Mary Patterson Memorial.

Mrs. Roland Reed has been serving as temporary chairman of the organization, which was launched in June.

Also named as officers were: Mrs. William A. Williams of East Liverpool, vice president; Mrs. Clayton Anders of Chester, secretary, and Mrs. Raymond K. Jennings of East Liverpool, treasurer.

Mrs. Reed received a gift in appreciation for her services in the organization of the group. She will leave the community soon with her husband, who recently returned from a tour of duty in Vietnam.

Mrs. Ann Overturff Riedel, county home economist, will be guest speaker at the meeting Oct. 10. Her topic will be "budgeting." A Halloween party will be held with Mrs. Cecil Grimes in October.

The dues also were agreed upon during the meeting. The group will assist the Red Cross chapter in packing its quota of kit bags for Christmas gifts for servicemen in Vietnam.

Sgt. Edward Valor, Army recruiter, screened the film "The Why of Vietnam."

Officers Report Decline In Local Traffic Mishaps

East Liverpool police investigated 56 traffic mishaps in August, a drop of seven from July's 63, it was shown today in the monthly summary of departmental activity.

One person died in August traffic in the city and six were injured, including two pedestrians. Officers logged 881 radio transmissions and made 83 arrests, including three for driving while intoxicated.

Nineteen casualty reports were filed on persons injured or taken ill on the streets or at their homes. Three persons were reported missing, but all later were located. Six cars were reported stolen. Two still are missing. Fifteen autos were towed off streets.

The department reported 17 burglaries, 29 cases of petty theft and 21 cases of vandalism.

THE COACH'S CORNER

BOB McNEA

We beat Cleveland East last Friday 36 to 0 but we did not play well. We made more assignment mistakes than is normal for an average ball game. If we continue to do this, winning will be much more difficult to achieve. Cleveland East had some fine athletes and they really hit hard even though we were able to put the score out of reach.

Getting ready for Midland is a different task than getting ready for our opener. We know more about them and they know more about us, as we played each other last year. Our boys know theirs and theirs know ours. Their team will be sky high against us as they relished the thrill of upsetting the "Potters". Likewise our squad will attempt to play their best as they remember the heart break of last year's game. Both starting teams are comparable but the Potters have more depth. The "Leopards" are healthy and ready while East Liverpool has two outstanding boys out and two or three others not completely ready.

In some ways Midland was getting ready for East Liverpool all of pre-season and over looking their opener—Western Beaver. As they were getting ready in their warm-up for Western Beaver, their chant was BEAT LIVERPOOL, BEAT LIVERPOOL. Apparently they are dedicating their entire season in beating us and while this is flattering, we can not afford this luxury. Being an Ohio team we will strive to defeat our other opponents on the schedule just as we attempt to defeat Midland.

Midland is a fine team and they have some outstanding athletes, which are some of the best we will play against. The contest should be a thrill to play in as well as watch.

Our only regret is that we will not be at full strength for this game. If we were I would feel more confident as to the outcome. We will do our best Friday evening and hope it will be enough to achieve victory.

We're with you POTTERS all the way!

Quota Makes 2 Donations

Two contributions were allocated during the luncheon meeting of the Quota Club Tuesday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel. Eighteen were present.

A check for $10 will be mailed to the Ralph Johnson Amphitheater fund and another for $25 to Fairbanks, Alaska, for the club's assistance with flood restoration.

Mrs. Doris Locke, president, conducted business.

Notes of thanks were read from Miss Jane Snow, recipient of the Citizens Scholarship Foundation, and from the community action committee.

Mrs. Marie Hays announced the club is selling fruit cakes and pecans.

A report of the forthcoming District 6 conference Sept. 22-24 at Steubenville was given by Miss Selma Ladzinske, chairman.

Mrs. Sallie O'Hanlon invited the club to attend the bazaar to be conducted by the Osteopathic Hospital Guild Oct. 5 at Mary Patterson Memorial.

Plans were made for the Oct. 24 session at the home of Miss Mildred McGregor, when she will speak on "Head Start."

The club voted to dispense with the Sept. 26 meeting because of the district conference.

The next luncheon meeting will be Oct. 10 at the hotel.

Personalities In The News

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Gordon MacRae, who is rehearsing for a role in the musical "I do, I do!", says he'll prepare by saying "I do" with socialite Elizabeth Schrafft.

The marriage, set for Sept. 22, will be the second for both.

MacRae, 45, was divorced last April 13 by his wife, Sheila. Mrs. Schrafft, 39, and her husband, George, were divorced last month.

The 60-year-old Shostakovich is expected to be hospitalized three months and will miss the London premiere of his new violin concerto Oct. 28, the sources said.

They said he fell in a ditch recently while trying to avoid an oncoming car.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) —Singer Rosemary Clooney and actor Jose Ferrer have been granted a divorce—the second in their 14 years of intermittent marriage.

Miss Clooney, 39, told Superior Court Judge Mervyn Aggelar Wednesday that Ferrer's "severe tantrums" upset her and their five children, aged 7 to 12.

Ferrer, 53, was ordered to pay a token $1 monthly alimony and $1,500 monthly support for the children who were placed in the mother's custody.

The couple were married in 1953 and awarded a first interlocutory decree in June 1962. They reconciled seven months later.

Film Screened For Newell PTA

Kenneth Dunlevy, president, was in charge.

The meeting opened with devotions conducted by Curtis Smith, school principal.

Mrs. Ann Carnahan, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Lowell Austin, executive secretary of the Hancock Tuberculosis League, who screened the film.

Smith explained a new system whereby parents will be notified by mail of any changes in pupil grades and discipline.

Refreshments were served in the home economics room by Mrs. Blaine Allison, Mrs. Elmer Keller and Mrs. Marion Lowther.

Recreation Director To Teach At Reading

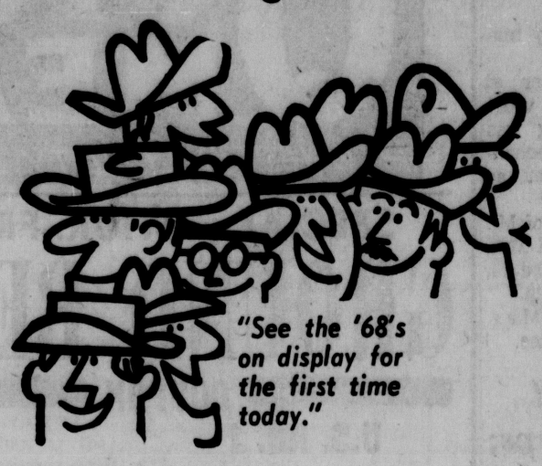

Gary Perkins, Midland's summer recreation program director, has accepted a teaching position in the elementary school system in Reading, Pa.

A 1963 graduate of Lincoln High School and a 1967 graduate of Slippery Rock State College with a bachelor of science degree in education, Perkins will teach physical education and science in grades four through six.

He recently was welcomed to the faculty at a teachers' reception.

Mrs. Perkins is employed as a secretary at the Art Gallery in Reading.

Quota Makes 2 Donations

Two contributions were allocated during the luncheon meeting of the Quota Club Tuesday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel. Eighteen were present.

A check for $10 will be mailed to the Ralph Johnson Amphitheater fund and another for $25 to Fairbanks, Alaska, for the club's assistance with flood restoration.

Mrs. Doris Locke, president, conducted business.

Notes of thanks were read from Miss Jane Snow, recipient of the Citizens Scholarship Foundation, and from the community action committee.

Mrs. Marie Hays announced the club is selling fruit cakes and pecans.

A report of the forthcoming District 6 conference Sept. 22-24 at Steubenville was given by Miss Selma Ladzinske, chairman.

Mrs. Sallie O'Hanlon invited the club to attend the bazaar to be conducted by the Osteopathic Hospital Guild Oct. 5 at Mary Patterson Memorial.

Plans were made for the Oct. 24 session at the home of Miss Mildred McGregor, when she will speak on "Head Start."

The club voted to dispense with the Sept. 26 meeting because of the district conference.

The next luncheon meeting will be Oct. 10 at the hotel.

Personalities In The News

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Gordon MacRae, who is rehearsing for a role in the musical "I do, I do!", says he'll prepare by saying "I do" with socialite Elizabeth Schrafft.

The marriage, set for Sept. 22, will be the second for both.

MacRae, 45, was divorced last April 13 by his wife, Sheila. Mrs. Schrafft, 39, and her husband, George, were divorced last month.

The 60-year-old Shostakovich is expected to be hospitalized three months and will miss the London premiere of his new violin concerto Oct. 28, the sources said.

They said he fell in a ditch recently while trying to avoid an oncoming car.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) —Singer Rosemary Clooney and actor Jose Ferrer have been granted a divorce—the second in their 14 years of intermittent marriage.

Miss Clooney, 39, told Superior Court Judge Mervyn Aggelar Wednesday that Ferrer's "severe tantrums" upset her and their five children, aged 7 to 12.

Ferrer, 53, was ordered to pay a token $1 monthly alimony and $1,500 monthly support for the children who were placed in the mother's custody.

The couple were married in 1953 and awarded a first interlocutory decree in June 1962. They reconciled seven months later.

Film Screened For Newell PTA

Kenneth Dunlevy, president, was in charge.

The meeting opened with devotions conducted by Curtis Smith, school principal.

Mrs. Ann Carnahan, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Lowell Austin, executive secretary of the Hancock Tuberculosis League, who screened the film.

Smith explained a new system whereby parents will be notified by mail of any changes in pupil grades and discipline.

Refreshments were served in the home economics room by Mrs. Blaine Allison, Mrs. Elmer Keller and Mrs. Marion Lowther.

Recreation Director To Teach At Reading

Gary Perkins, Midland's summer recreation program director, has accepted a teaching position in the elementary school system in Reading, Pa.

A 1963 graduate of Lincoln High School and a 1967 graduate of Slippery Rock State College with a bachelor of science degree in education, Perkins will teach physical education and science in grades four through six.

He recently was welcomed to the faculty at a teachers' reception.

Mrs. Perkins is employed as a secretary at the Art Gallery in Reading.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I married young. I was 16 and Ted was 20. We were very happy for the first two years. We had a child whom we both wanted and we love her very much.

Last year when I was pregnant with a second baby Ted became involved with a 16-year-old tramp. When I learned of the affair, he promised he'd stop seeing her and he kept his word.

I had a very difficult pregnancy, however, and the baby was born with a birth defect. My doctor said the defect was due to the emotional strain I suffered while carrying the child.

I've tried to forgive Ted, but I can't seem to do it. Whenever I look at the baby I blame him all over again. Please help me get over hating my husband. I'm making my life miserable, and his as well. — BITTER WOMAN.

Dear Woman: I've checked with physicians in Chicago, Washington and Boston and all three say it would be impossible to state for certain that the birth defect was due to emotional upset during pregnancy. So, in the interest of fairness, stop blaming your husband.

You might also do that doctor a favor and suggest that he do some serious investigating in the field of birth defects so he doesn't continue to cause unnecessary anguish to other mothers who may have defective babies.

Party Poopers

Dear Ann: I'm a girl 15 and have been begging my parents for a year to let me have a boy-girl party. Well, they finally said okay for my birthday.

The party was last night and I'm just sick. One couple wandered off into a bedroom and were necking up a storm when my mother walked in on them. She told them to get out of the bedroom and to join the others. They were so embarrassed they left without saying goodby.

This morning my mother tore into me like it was my fault or something. I really feel awful. This couple has been going steady for ages and it's not my business what they do but I think they had some nerve to make out in our home.

Now my mother says I can't have any more boy-girl parties for a year. Is this fair? — INNOCENT VICTIM OF OVER-SEXED FRIENDS.

Dear Vic: Your mother should not hold you responsible for the conduct of your friends. I do feel that you should let this couple know you are keenly disappointed in them, and if your mother should reconsider and give you another chance, chop the love-birds off your next party list.

Oh You Kid!

Dear Ann: I was amused by the letter from the California woman who resented being called "Doll" by the butcher, "Honey" by the gas station attendant, "Sweetheart" by the parking lot fellow and "Sugar" by the postman.

In London the women are called "'Ducky," while in the northern provinces it's "'Luv." My favorite pet name for the ladies is one which originated in Scotland, however. It's "Hen." How do you think that one would go over in the U.S., Ann? —R.D.C. OF VANCOUVER.

Dean Van: Don't try it. Chick, yes . . . but Hen—never!

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Power Firm Sets Interruption In Chester District

Scheduled work on a Monongahela Power Co. substation at Chester will require a suspension of power service in some areas Sunday from 7:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Walter Jordan, Chester area manager, said a new power line will be built around one substation to do maintenance work later in the month on the other which will be taken out of service without interruption of power.

Industrial customers to be affected will include the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., Timbercraft, Harker China Co., Fox Nursing Home, Chester Water Works, Celotex Corp. National Church Supply Co. of Route 30 and Hillcrest Farms.

The areas to be affected will include all of Chester east of 8th St., Lawrenceville district and areas east to the Pennsylvania border, Route 2 south to Gas Valley, Middle Run Rd. from Race Track Rd. to Route 2, Town and Country Estates, Virden Heights, Meadowbrook Acres and Pleasant Hills.

In event of inclement weather, the work will be done Sept. 24 at the same hours, Jordan said.

Young Hits Admirals, Generals On Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young charged Wednesday that generals and admirals who testified recently before a Senate subcommittee exerted "arrogant power" by urging intensified bombing of north Vietnam.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: To save on our budget and when we don't have time to take our small boys to the barber, we trim their hair above their ears so they will look nice for a special occasion. This partial trim looks fine until we can get them to the barber for regular hair cuts.

Being afraid of poking them with the sharp points of the scissors, I found that wrapping each point with adhesive tape does away with the danger of sticking the child while trimming his hair.

MOTHER OF TWO BOYS.

DEAR HELOISE: A few years ago, while brushing my teeth, I noticed that that last trace of lipstick, which is so hard to remove, had disappeared.

Now I use toothpaste all the time to remove lipstick from my lips. It also tastes good, to.

Recently when my two-year-old came in with lipstick all over her face, I had the answer. I put a dab of toothpaste on a wash cloth and the lipstick was gone in seconds with no painful scrubbing on my baby's tender skin.

MARTI HOLLIS.

DEAR MARTI: I can't figure out why in the world this works but it does.

I put lipstick on the back of my hand and then rubbed it with some toothpaste and it came right off. After all, if it's tender enough for gums, it shouldn't hurt our skin.

Thank you from, not only me, but all our mothers who have little kiddies who get into our lipstick.

HELOISE.

Now I have found that adhesive-backed plastic paper makes a perfect backing and gives you a choice of colors.

ALMA BORCHERT.

DEAR HELOISE: Another place to check for refrigerator odors is the drip pan at the bottom of your refrigerator. This usually fits under the motor.

We had an odor in our refrigerator all summer, and finally found out we had an accumulation in this little pan. A paper milk carton had leaked and we had scrubbed everywhere except this drip pan.

And you are, oh, so right. Many people do not even know that this pan must be cleaned from time to time.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I use shampoos and creme rinses that come in pliable plastic containers. After the tube is empty, I find there is usually enough lotion clinging to the sides for two more shampoos!

Rather than slowly squeeze the lotion out through the tiny opening. I take my scissors and snip the container through the middle, use what I need and then stick the top half into the lower half until the next shampoo.

Of course, the container is shorter, but it will not slip open. There is no waste at all.

On the following shampoo, open the container, put it in a glass and pour hot water over it. Then let it sit a while.

JUDY ROTELLA.

DEAR HELOISE: I found another good use for those plastic tubs that soft margarine comes in now.

After heating my toddler's food, which all mothers at some time or other get too hot, I just pour it in one of those plastic tubs. It cools quickly after stirring around.

After the child has finished eating, these plastic tubs can be discarded.

Also, if the baby does not finish his food immediately, all I do is put the lid on and put it in the refrigerator until he gets hungry again.

JOANN CLAY

AT&T Ordered To Slash Long Distance Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission ordered today American Telephone and Telgraph Co. to cut its long distance telephone rates by $100 million by Nov. 1.

The FCC originally had ordered a $120 million cut. But in a 7-0 decision it said today $20 million of the reduction could be deferred until next May 1.

The FCC also reversed part of its July 5 order to allow the giant communications combine to include an additional $544 million in its so-called rate base—the basis on which AT&A figures its profits.

But the commission remained firm on its earlier finding that AT&T must limit its rate of return on interstate operations to between 7 and 7.5 per cent.

AT&T originally had asked for a rate of return between 7.5 and 8.5 per cent. Officials had expressed concern that the lower range would be insufficient to attract investors to AT&T stock, which slumped following the FCC's original decision.

In the past decade or so the average American has consumed 105 to 110 pounds of potatoes annually.

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: To save on our budget and when we don't have time to take our small boys to the barber, we trim their hair above their ears so they will look nice for a special occasion. This partial trim looks fine until we can get them to the barber for regular hair cuts.

Being afraid of poking them with the sharp points of the scissors, I found that wrapping each point with adhesive tape does away with the danger of sticking the child while trimming his hair.

MOTHER OF TWO BOYS.

DEAR HELOISE: A few years ago, while brushing my teeth, I noticed that that last trace of lipstick, which is so hard to remove, had disappeared.

Now I use toothpaste all the time to remove lipstick from my lips. It also tastes good, to.

Recently when my two-year-old came in with lipstick all over her face, I had the answer. I put a dab of toothpaste on a wash cloth and the lipstick was gone in seconds with no painful scrubbing on my baby's tender skin.

MARTI HOLLIS.

DEAR MARTI: I can't figure out why in the world this works but it does.

I put lipstick on the back of my hand and then rubbed it with some toothpaste and it came right off. After all, if it's tender enough for gums, it shouldn't hurt our skin.

Thank you from, not only me, but all our mothers who have little kiddies who get into our lipstick.

HELOISE.

Now I have found that adhesive-backed plastic paper makes a perfect backing and gives you a choice of colors.

ALMA BORCHERT.

DEAR HELOISE: Another place to check for refrigerator odors is the drip pan at the bottom of your refrigerator. This usually fits under the motor.

We had an odor in our refrigerator all summer, and finally found out we had an accumulation in this little pan. A paper milk carton had leaked and we had scrubbed everywhere except this drip pan.

And you are, oh, so right. Many people do not even know that this pan must be cleaned from time to time. Thanks a million.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I use shampoos and creme rinses that come in pliable plastic containers. After the tube is empty, I find there is usually enough lotion clinging to the sides for two more shampoos!

Rather than slowly squeeze the lotion out through the tiny opening, I take my scissors and snip the container through the middle, use what I need and then stick the top half into the lower half until the next shampoo.

Of course, the container is shorter, but it will not slip open. There is no waste at all.

On the following shampoo, open the container, put it in a glass and pour hot water over it. Then let it sit a while.

JUDY ROTELLA.

DEAR HELOISE: I found another good use for those plastic tubs that soft margarine comes in now.

After heating my toddler's food, which all mothers at some time or other get too hot, I just pour it in one of those plastic tubs. It cools quickly after stirring around.

After the child has finished eating, these plastic tubs can be discarded.

Also, if the baby does not finish his food immediately, all I do is put the lid on and put it in the refrigerator until he gets hungry again.

AT&T Ordered To Slash Long Distance Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission ordered today American Telephone and Telgraph Co. to cut its long distance telephone rates by $100 million by Nov. 1.

The FCC originally had ordered a $120 million cut. But in a 7-0 decision it said today $20 million of the reduction could be deferred until next May 1.

The FCC also reversed part of its July 5 order to allow the giant communications combine to include an additional $544 million in its so-called rate base—the basis on which AT&A figures its profits.

But the commission remained firm on its earlier finding that AT&T must limit its rate of return on interstate operations to between 7 and 7.5 per cent.

AT&T originally had asked for a rate of return between 7.5 and 8.5 per cent. Officials had expressed concern that the lower range would be insufficient to attract investors to AT&T stock, which slumped following the FCC's original decision.

Potters, Hampered By Injuries, Prepare For Midland

3 Starting Backs Miss Practices

By Turk Pierce
Review Sports Editor

East Liverpool and Midland, both victorious in their opening games last week, clash tomorrow night at Patterson Field at 7:45.

Potter Coach Bob McNea, who makes any prophet of doom sound cheerful by comparison, was a little worried whether the locals could field 11 men, after a rash of injuries decimated the ranks of the Potters during practice this week.

But Leopard Coach Joe Hamilton had his own worries, as Dave Vanlier, top back for the Pennsylvania team, missed practices due to an asthma attack. Vanlier gained 166 yards rushing against Western Beaver in a 25-0 win Friday.

Most serious of the Potter injuries is to second - string quarterback Dan Cunningham. He suffered a knee injury in Saturday's reserve game and is definitely out this week. Tight end Bruce Christian suffered shoulder injuries, and the odds are he won't play, according to McNea. The X-rays showed a circular crack in both of Christian's shoulders, the doctors told McNea, and he is being withheld from contact work at present. It is hoped he will be ready for the next game, Steubenville Central at East Liverpool September 30.

Three quarters of the starting backfield has been missing practice. Halfback Jim Musuraca, injured in the 36-0 win over Cleveland East, has a swollen ankle. Quarterback Earl Diddle's leg is infected from ankle to knee and Mike McVay, the other halfback, had an ingrown toenail removed Tuesday. Diddle and McVay are expected to play, Musuraca will play only if he can go at full speed. Sam Scott can step in for Musuraca, but the only available quarterback should Diddle and McVay not play is John Johnson, normally an end. Bill Jones is ready to go at fullback.

Center Ray Boyd is recovered from his heat prostration and Rick Rowley, normally a guard, is ready to go after being hampered last week by an ankle injury. Center Jim Bess, with an injured hand, is not practicing, but he might see action on defense as a linebacker, especially if McVay is not up to par. Sophomore Louis Volino, who played some last week, may also see action.

Tom Chambers will be at split end and Rowley may replace Christian at the tight end. Stanley Ice and John Stepien will be the tackles and Bill Hopper and Bob Jones the guards.

McNea is more worried about the defense being stripped by injuries than the offense. Nelson (Sonny) Clark will be at safety in place of Musuraca and Rowley, Jerry Christian or Jones will try to replace Bruce Christian at defensive end. Don Cochran will be a defensive tackle.

Midland spoiled an unbeaten season for the Potters last year with a 19-13 win. McNea claims there is no revenge factor in his preparations, but adds "the boys really want to win this one". Midland is pointing for us, and it should be a good game."

Hamilton was pleased with his offense, which rolled up 253 yards rushing, against Western Beaver, but he is worried about his defense. The Golden Beavers, although they did not score gained 130 yards through the air. Both the defensive backfield overage and a poor pass rush worry the Midland mentor.

Anthony Williams will be one halfback for the Leopards, with Albert (Bub) Bynum filling in for Vanlier if necessary. Jack Campbell will be the staring quarterback, though sophomore Greg Braund will see action. Howard Leak is the fullback.

In the line, Bob Needs and Roy Walker will be at the ends, Frank Granito and Bob Love at tackle, Chuck McShane and Don Epley are guards and Barney Newman will be the center. Paul Francis reinjured his thumb in practice this week and will play only defense, if at all.

Hamilton is worried about the speed and size of the East Liverpool backfield, which outweighs the Leopard backs 170-156. He also questions the figures which give the Potters a 168-pound average in the line. Midland averages 180.

Both teams were ragged in their openers last week, which is expected. East Liverpool has more experience, but could also make more mistakes, due to lack of practice by first stringers. Both schools want the win, and local students are sporting buttons saying "9-1, Midland Is The One", reminded everyone that Midland was the only team to beat the Potters in 1966.

E. Liverpool, Ohio U. Unanimous Yogi Picks

Of the 10 high school, college and pro games on the list to be picked, six produced a 3-2 split among the seers and only two teams rated unanimous approval.

All five 'wizards of odds' selected East Liverpool to beat Midland for the Potters second straight and Ohio U. was a unanimous choice to top Toledo.

Sentiment went out the window in the case of the Bears and Steelers, as only Bob Duffy chose the Pittsburgh team. UCLA, with Gary Beban, got the nod from all but Turk Pierce, who went with Tennessee.

Duffy and Jerry Nachman, the latter making a late start in the Yogi race, selected the Beaver Local Beavers, but the other three went with Leetonia. Pierce and Nachman took Texas A&M while the rest took SMU in the televised college game of the week.

Sentiment played little part in the Buffalo - Kent St. choices, as Kent Stater Tom Futhey joined Pierce and Nachman in picking the Bulls. Nachman went with his alma mater, Youngstown, against Tennessee Tech. He was joined in his choice by Futhey and Bob Schaffer.

Pierce and Duffy went with past performance, not odds, in tapping the Cowboys over the Browns. Duffy and Futhey went with the underdog Giants against the Cardinals.

Schaffer, who went 8-2 last week, was with the consensus choice this week in every game except Kent St. - Buffalo.

East Junior High Game Cancelled

Westgate will open its season at Weirton Madonna tonight.

The Potter Reserves play at Youngstown Cardinal Mooney at 10 a.m. Saturday, but the Potter Sophomore's game scheduled at Martin's Ferry at the same time has been cancelled. The sophomore's scheduled opener against South Side Beaver last Saturday was also cancelled.

Aussies Cut Margin

Intrepid Easily Wins 2nd Race

"Let's get into it," Wright said steadfastly after the New York Yacht Club's Intrepid gave the Australian challenger her second straight beating Wednesday in the best-of-seven series for the America's Cup.

So today, come hell, high water or Intrepid, the two 12-meter sloops will have at it for a third time over the 24.3-mile triangular course on Rhode Island Sound.

Despite losing by about one-half mile to Intrepid—amounting to a 3-minute-35-second margin—Wright, spokesman for the Aussie boat, said, "We were tremendously encouraged with our performance."

And, in a lighter wind than they had hoped for, the Australians improved markedly on their first-race showing. In that one Dame Pattie didn't have the drive that Intrepid had to cut through seas from a 22-knot blow.

At Wednesday's start, the wind was east-northwest and about 10 knots. For five minutes before the starting gun, Dame Pattie's skipper, Jock Sturrock, and Bus Mosbacher of Intrepid circled each other like a dog chasing his tail.

Then Mosbacher broke off with his Genoa jib set, came about and both 12s headed for the leeward end of the line with Intrepid upwind. Both sloops had their sails clear of each other's backwind but about 30 seconds after an almost even start, Mosbacher began to be bothered by Dame Pattie's slipstream, indicating the Aussies were gaining on Intrepid.

The 46-year-old American helmsman tacked to clear his air. Sturrock followed him immediately and began a series of quick tacks to try and edge up on the Cup defender.

If the tactic didn't entirely succeed, neither did it fail. Both yachts remained about 130 feet apart. But then Sturrock tried a false tack, ccoming partially about and then falling away again. Mosbacher was alert to the feint, however, and when Dame Pattie squared away again, she had lost considerable speed while Intrepid had not.

Both yachts were bothered by the waves of the spectator fleet of some 500 yachts, passenger vessels, destroyers and Coast Guard cutters. Both took waves into their cockpits and once on a long port tack on the first leg sailed at eight knots towards the onlooking fleet sending pleasure yachts and destroyers scurrying.

Asked how he felt his chances were, Wright turned back into the dusty history of this 116-year-old trophy when, in 1932, Britain's Endeavour, an admittedly faster boat, took the first two races from America's Rainbow.

"And America won the cup," he said with a John Paul Jonesian authority. And so she did.

Fitchner Ready To Play For Browns vs. Cowboys

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ross Fichtner is ready for action in the National Football League League opener here Sunday and that is good news for the Cleveland Browns.

The veteran defensive back suffered cracked ribs in the initial scrimmage at the Browns Hiram training camp and missed the entire exhibition season.

He went all out Wednesday in the Browns' first full-scale practice of the week and was named by Coach Blanton Collier as a starter against the Dallas Cowboys Sunday afternoon.

Fichtner, starting his eighth season with the Browns, hasn't had any contact since he was injured until this week, but has kept in good shape with plenty of running.

"I doubt if I'll make any mistakes from the standpoint of not knowing our defenses," Fichtner said. My problem could be with fundamentals.

"Slamming in and making that tackle when it's needed. Having the timing to bat down passes. Those are the things I might be rusty on."

Last year's campaign probably was Fichtner's finest with the Browns. He intercepted eight passes, tying Mike Howell for team honors in that department, and returned them for 152 yards and one touchdown.

Fichtner's presence in the lineup will mean that the Browns will have four experienced men in the defensive backfield simultaneously for the first time this summer.

Gordie Howe, 39, Signs 2-Year Red Wing Pact

Howe, who holds more National Hockey League records than any other player, is graying slightly at the temples. He hasn't nearly as much hair as he did 22 years ago when he first burst on the hockey scene out of the frozen prairies of Saskatchewan. But still he signed for his 22nd and 23rd hockey seasons Wednesday.

No other player in league history has played more than 20 years. Howe has completed 21.

"If my health holds up, I'll keep going," he said.

Sid Abel, Red Wing coach and general manager, said, "We don't feel Gordie's at the end of the line — that's why we signed him to two years."

The Wings signed also Norm Ullman, 31, who ended a four-day holdout. He, too, signed a two-year contract.

(The Upholstered Shoe)

It not only covers your foot. It comforts it. Calms it down. Relaxes it.
The lining is made of a special breathing foam, bonded to wear-proof nylon fabric. It lasts for the life of the shoe.
You'll find it in laced and slip-on styles, all with Thom McAn's exclusive Roma construction. Lightweight, flexible, long wearing.

Potters, Hampered By Injuries, Prepare For Midland

3 Starting Backs Miss Practices

By Turk Pierce
Review Sports Editor

East Liverpool and Midland, both victorious in their opening games last week, clash tomorrow night at Patterson Field at 7:45.

Potter Coach Bob McNea, who makes any prophet of doom sound cheerful by comparison, was a little worried whether the locals could field 11 men, after a rash of injuries decimated the ranks of the Potters during practice this week.

But Leopard Coach Joe Hamilton had his own worries, as Dave Vanlier, top back for the Pennsylvania team, missed practices due to an asthma attack. Vanlier gained 166 yards rushing against Western Beaver in a 25-0 win Friday.

Most serious of the Potter injuries is to second - string quarterback Dan Cunningham. He suffered a knee injury in Saturday's reserve game and is definitely out this week. Tight end Bruce Christian suffered shoulder injuries, and the odds are he won't play, according to McNea. The X-rays showed a circular crack in both of Christian's shoulders, the doctors told McNea, and he is being withheld from contact work at present. It is hoped he will be ready for the next game, Steubenville Central at East Liverpool September 30.

Three quarters of the starting backfield has been missing practice. Halfback Jim Musuraca, injured in the 36-0 win over Cleveland East, has a swollen ankle. Quarterback Earl Diddle's leg is infected from ankle to knee and Mike McVay, the other halfback, had an ingrown toenail removed Tuesday. Diddle and McVay are expected to play, Musuraca will play only if he can go at full speed. Sam Scott can step in for Musuraca, but the only available quarterback should Diddle and McVay not play is John Johnson, normally an end. Bill Jones is ready to go at fullback.

Center Ray Boyd is recovered from his heat prostration and Rick Rowley, normally a guard, is ready to go after being hampered last week by an ankle injury. Center Jim Bess, with an injured hand, is not practicing, but he might see action on defense as a linebacker, especially if McVay is not up to par. Sophomore Louis Volino, who played some last week, may also see action.

Tom Chambers will be at split end and Rowley may replace Christian at the tight end. Stanley Ice and John Stepien will be the tackles and Bill Hopper and Bob Jones the guards.

McNea is more worried about the defense being stripped by injuries than the offense. Nelson (Sonny) Clark will be at safety in place of Musuraca and Rowley, Jerry Christian or Jones will try to replace Bruce Christian at defensive end. Don Cochran will be a defensive tackle.

Midland spoiled an unbeaten season for the Potters last year with a 19-13 win. McNea claims there is no revenge factor in his preparations, but adds "the boys really want to win this one". Midland is pointing for us, and it should be a good game."

Hamilton was pleased with his offense, which rolled up 253 yards rushing, against Western Beaver, but he is worried about his defense. The Golden Beavers, although they did not score gained 130 yards through the air. Both the defensive backfield overage and a poor pass rush worry the Midland mentor.

Anthony Williams will be one halfback for the Leopards, with Albert (Bub) Bynum filling in for Vanlier if necessary. Jack Campbell will be the staring quarterback, though sophomore Greg Braund will see action. Howard Leak is the fullback.

In the line, Bob Needs and Roy Walker will be at the ends, Frank Granito and Bob Love at tackle, Chuck McShane and Don Epley are guards and Barney Newman will be the center. Paul Francis reinjured his thumb in practice this week and will play only defense, if at all.

Hamilton is worried about the speed and size of the East Liverpool backfield, which outweighs the Leopard backs 170-156. He also questions the figures which give the Potters a 168-pound average in the line. Midland averages 180.

Both teams were ragged in their openers last week, which is expected. East Liverpool has more experience, but could also make more mistakes, due to lack of practice by first stringers. Both schools want the win, and local students are sporting buttons saying "9-1, Midland Is The One", reminded everyone that Midland was the only team to beat the Potters in 1966.

E. Liverpool, Ohio U. Unanimous Yogi Picks

Of the 10 high school, college and pro games on the list to be picked, six produced a 3-2 split among the seers and only two teams rated unanimous approval.

All five 'wizards of odds' selected East Liverpool to beat Midland for the Potters second straight and Ohio U. was a unanimous choice to top Toledo.

Sentiment went out the window in the case of the Bears and Steelers, as only Bob Duffy chose the Pittsburgh team. UCLA, with Gary Beban, got the nod from all but Turk Pierce, who went with Tennessee.

Duffy and Jerry Nachman, the latter making a late start in the Yogi race, selected the Beaver Local Beavers, but the other three went with Leetonia. Pierce and Nachman took Texas A&M while the rest took SMU in the televised college game of the week.

Sentiment played little part in the Buffalo - Kent St. choices, as Kent Stater Tom Futhey joined Pierce and Nachman in picking the Bulls. Nachman went with his alma mater, Youngstown, against Tennessee Tech. He was joined in his choice by Futhey and Bob Schaffer.

Pierce and Duffy went with past performance, not odds, in tapping the Cowboys over the Browns. Duffy and Futhey went with the underdog Giants against the Cardinals.

Schaffer, who went 8-2 last week, was with the consensus choice this week in every game except Kent St. - Buffalo.

East Junior High Game Cancelled

Tonight's scheduled game again between the East Junior High football team and Lisbon, scheduled for the East field, has been cancelled.

Westgate will open its season at Weirton Madonna tonight.

The Potter Reserves play at Youngstown Cardinal Mooney at 10 a.m. Saturday, but the Potter Sophomore's game scheduled at Martin's Ferry at the same time has been cancelled. The sophomore's scheduled opener against South Side Beaver last Saturday was also cancelled.

Aussies Cut Margin

Intrepid Easily Wins 2nd Race

"Let's get into it," Wright said steadfastly after the New York Yacht Club's Intrepid gave the Australian challenger her second straight beating Wednesday in the best-of-seven series for the America's Cup.

So today, come hell, high water or Intrepid, the two 12-meter sloops will have at it for a third time over the 24.3-mile triangular course on Rhode Island Sound.

Despite losing by about one-half mile to Intrepid—amounting to a 3-minute-35-second margin—Wright, spokesman for the Aussie boat, said, "We were tremendously encouraged with our performance."

And, in a lighter wind than they had hoped for, the Australians improved markedly on their first-race showing. In that one Dame Pattie didn't have the drive that Intrepid had to cut through seas from a 22-knot blow.

At Wednesday's start, the wind was east-northwest and about 10 knots. For five minutes before the starting gun, Dame Pattie's skipper, Jock Sturrock, and Bus Mosbacher of Intrepid circled each other like a dog chasing his tail.

Then Mosbacher broke off with his Genoa jib set, came about and both 12s headed for the leeward end of the line with Intrepid upwind. Both sloops had their sails clear of each other's backwind but about 30 seconds after an almost even start, Mosbacher began to be bothered by Dame Pattie's slipstream, indicating the Aussies were gaining on Intrepid.

The 46-year-old American helmsman tacked to clear his air. Sturrock followed him immediately and began a series of quick tacks to try and edge up on the Cup defender.

If the tactic didn't entirely succeed, neither did it fail. Both yachts remained about 130 feet apart. But then Sturrock tried a false tack, ccoming partially about and then falling away again. Mosbacher was alert to the feint, however, and when Dame Pattie squared away again, she had lost considerable speed while Intrepid had not.

Both yachts were bothered by the waves of the spectator fleet of some 500 yachts, passenger vessels, destroyers and Coast Guard cutters. Both took waves into their cockpits and once on a long port tack on the first leg sailed at eight knots towards the onlooking fleet sending pleasure yachts and destroyers scurrying.

Asked how he felt his chances were, Wright turned back into the dusty history of this 116-year-old trophy when, in 1932, Britain's Endeavour, an admittedly faster boat, took the first two races from America's Rainbow.

"And America won the cup," he said with a John Paul Jonesian authority. And so she did.

Fitchner Ready To Play For Browns vs. Cowboys

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ross Fichtner is ready for action in the National Football League League opener here Sunday and that is good news for the Cleveland Browns.

The veteran defensive back suffered cracked ribs in the initial scrimmage at the Browns Hiram training camp and missed the entire exhibition season.

He went all out Wednesday in the Browns' first full-scale practice of the week and was named by Coach Blanton Collier as a starter against the Dallas Cowboys Sunday afternoon.

Fichtner, starting his eighth season with the Browns, hasn't had any contact since he was injured until this week, but has kept in good shape with plenty of running.

"I doubt if I'll make any mistakes from the standpoint of not knowing our defenses," Fichtner said. My problem could be with fundamentals.

"Slamming in and making that tackle when it's needed. Having the timing to bat down passes. Those are the things I might be rusty on."

Last year's campaign probably was Fichtner's finest with the Browns. He intercepted eight passes, tying Mike Howell for team honors in that department, and returned them for 152 yards and one touchdown.

Fichtner's presence in the lineup will mean that the Browns will have four experienced men in the defensive backfield simultaneously for the first time this summer.

Gordie Howe, 39, Signs 2-Year Red Wing Pact

DETROIT (AP) — At an age when most athletes have long since left the arena, Gordie Howe, 39, hockey's muscular superstar, signed a two-year contract.

Howe, who holds more National Hockey League records than any other player, is graying slightly at the temples. He hasn't nearly as much hair as he did 22 years ago when he first burst on the hockey scene out of the frozen prairies of Saskatchewan. But still he signed for his 22nd and 23rd hockey seasons Wednesday.

No other player in league history has played more than 20 years. Howe has completed 21.

"If my health holds up, I'll keep going," he said.

Sid Abel, Red Wing coach and general manager, said, "We don't feel Gordie's at the end of the line — that's why we signed him to two years."

The Wings signed also Norm Ullman, 31, who ended a four-day holdout. He, too, signed a two-year contract.

But all the attention was focused on Howe, a 6-foot, 200-pounder with sloping shoulders.

(The Upholstered Shoe)

It not only covers your foot. It comforts it. Calms it down. Relaxes it.
The lining is made of a special breathing foam, bonded to wear-proof nylon fabric. It lasts for the life of the shoe.
You'll find it in laced and slip-on styles, all with Thom McAn's exclusive Roma construction. Lightweight, flexible, long wearing.

White Sox Win In 17th Inning

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chance strode out of the Minnesota bullpen for only the second time this season Wednesday night and saved Minnesota's 3-2 victory over Washington and the Twins' share of the American League lead. Boston, tied for first place with Minnesota, defeated Kansas City 4-2 in an afternoon game.

Adcock's Indians, meanwhile, struggled through 17 scoreless innings, nine of them without a hit against Chicago's Gary Peters and finally lost to the White Sox 1-0 on Rocky Colavito's run-scoring single.

Third-place Detroit remained one game off the pace as Mickey Lolich pitched a five-hitter and Al Kaline and Dick Tracewski rapped home runs in a 6-1 victory over Baltimore.

In the only other American League game played Wednesday, New York dropped California 6-4.

Jim Kaat was cruising along on a six-hit shutout going into the ninth against Washington and the Twins' 3-0 lead built mostly on Harmon Killebrew's 39th homer, looked substantial enough.

But Frank Howard and Paul Casanova opened with singles and Fred Valentine drove a double off the right field wall. Tony Oliva, attempting to catch Valentine's drove, crashed into the wall and suffered a three-stitch cut in his left eyelid and superficial knee bruises.

Manager Cal Ermer, who had considered removing Kaat before Valentine's hit, waited no longer. "As soon as I saw the ball head for the fence in right," Ermer said, "I knew I'd made a bad move." Now, he made a good one, calling for Chance.

The ace right-hander gave up a sacrifice fly to rookie Frank Coggins and then struck out Mike Epstein and Cap Peterson, leaving the tying run stranded.

Peters pitched 11 innings of the strangest one-hit ball you're ever likely to see. The White Sox' ace left-hander permitted only a second inning triple by Joe Azcue but walked 10 batters and was in constant trouble.

Sonny Siebert, meanwhile, matched Peters, allowing three hits in the first four innings and no more until the 11th. But the Indians stranded 11 base runners.

The White Sox finally won it in the 17th when Ken Boyer singled with one out and pinch runner Charlie Bradford raced to second on a passed ball. After Tom McCraw was purposely walked, Colavito singled Bradford home.

Lolich, who lost 10 in a row over one stretch, won his sixth straight for the Tigers after spending most of Wednesday in bed, nursing a cold.

Kaline had three hits and scored three runs. His 24th homer in the third inning followed utility man Tracewski's first of the season.

Tracewski's homer was only the fourth of his major league career and it came against Baltimore's Pete Richert. The two are old friends and Tracewski served as best man at Richert's wedding. "My first two times up in the American League," Tracewski recalled, "he struck me out.

Rico Petrocelli drove in three runs—two of them with a tie-breaking double in the eighth inning as the Red Sox trimmed the Athletics. He singled home Boston's first run in the fourth. Both times, he delivered after Kansas City had purposely walked Ken Harrelson.

CROWNED BY QUEEN. Bill Mazeroski of the Pirates is tagged out at home plate by pitcher Mel Queen of the Reds. Mazeroski had tried to score on a wild pitch, but catcher Johnny Bench threw to Queen covering home in time for the out. Umpire is Ed Vargo. Pirates won game in Cincinnati 11-3. (UPI Telephoto)

Clemente Blasts Bucs, Blasts Reds

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roberto Clemente conducted a short course in show and tell Wednesday.

First the Pirate slugger gave some of his teammates a mild dressing-down for not giving their best. Then he showed them just how good somebody's best can be. He got five hits and drove in four runs as the Pirates pulverized Cincinnati 11-3.

Earlier in the day, Clemente had been quoted as saying some of the Pirates hadn't done their best for former Manager Harry Walker, who was fired in June.

Against the Reds, Clemente hit his 21st homer as well as a double and three singles. Tommie Sisk went all the way for Pittsburgh, evening his record at 12-12.

In other National League games Wednesday night, Philadelphia blanked St. Louis 3-0, Los Angeles downed San Francisco 6-3 and New York edged Atlanta 2-1.

Clemente didn't name any of the culprits in his blast, first aired in a radio inerview in Puerto Rico. None of them seemed ready to dispute who had given 100 per cent in Wednesday's game.

Larry Jackson conquered a seven game hex against the Cardinals with a fine twohitter, giving up only a single to Lou Brock in the fourth and a double to Curt Flood in the ninth. Bill White homered for the Phillies.

Al Ferrara drove in three runs for the Dodgers and Jim Lefebvre homered as Mike McCormick failed to win his 20th game. Ollie Brown homered for the Giants and Claude Osteen, who went the distance, was the winning pitcher, striking out 10.

Jerry Grote's two-out single in the ninth inning drove in Ed Kranepool with the winning run for the Mets. Tom Seaver became the winningest pitcher in Mets' history with his 14th triumph.

Joe Schmidt Not Talking About Lions

By WHITEY SAWYER

DETROIT (AP)—Joe Schmidt, never a talkative man, has become even more silent now that he faces the sternest test of his young career as a head football coach.

Schmidt's Detroit Lions face the world champion Packers at Green Bay Sunday and Schmidt doesn't have a lot to say about it.

"We'll show up, that's about it," he said.

The Lions had a miserable 4-9-1 season last year under the fired Harry Gilmer. Schmidt, an assistant last year, finished the exhibition season with a 3-2 mark.

Asked if he wished his first regular-season opponent were someone besides Green Bay, he replied, "You've got to play them and if you lose one, what the hell, there are 13 more to play."

"But," he added as an afterthought, "the first one is always important."

He said he'd decide Friday who will be the starting quarterback, veteran Milt Plum or second-year man Karl Sweetan.

Schmidt, a balding, blond block of a man, answers many questions about the team with a piercing stare of his blue eyes and a single word or two.

He's made a lot of changes, the most startling the trade of veteran defensive tackle Roger Brown to Los Angeles for future Rams' draft choices.

Mud Hens Take Lead In Playoffs

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Toledo Mud Hens came home and promptly moved out ahead of Columbus in the race for the International League Governor's Cup.

The best-of-7 series stood at 1-1 as the two Ohio teams left Columbus but the Mud Hens took a one-game lead in the playoffs by claiming a 2-0 victory over the Jets Wednesday night.

Toledo opened the scoring in the fourth inning when Don Pepper's single brought Dave Campbell home. Wayne Comer's solo homer in the sixth accounted for the final run.

Mud Hen hurler Daryl Patterson fanned 11 batters in seven innings before walking leadoff batter Fred Patek in the eighth. Southpaw reliever Jack DiLauro put down the next six batters in order.

Mrs. William Pickin scored low gross during ladies golf 18-hole medal play at the East Liverpool Country Club yesterday.

Mrs. Pickin fired a 48-45-93. Taking low net honors was Mrs. R. J. Kinsey with a 107-32-75. Best putter was Mrs. Gordon Weese with 30 putts.

In the second division, nine-hole medal play, Mrs. R. E. Bowersock had a 58, to tie for low gross with Mrs. Arthur Doak, who took low net honors with a 58-22-36. Mrs. W. F. Porter claimed putting honors with 16 putts.

The Pittsburgh Steelers have had only eight winning seasons since entering the NFL in 1933.

A LOOK AT THE FUTURE: The time is 1979. The old Highway Safety Act first passed in 1966 has been amended to require a reaction time device be built into every highway motor vehicle on the road. The device is said to prevent the operation of a car by a drunk, or by those drivers with reaction times too slow for modern Speedway driving.

The safety device works this way: A small box fits on the dashboard. The driver puts his personalized, reaction-time key into the regular ignition slot and turns it to the "on" position. Now a small bulb lights signalling the driver to turn the key to "start" as quickly as he can.

The driver has 150 miliseconds to turn the key, making the connection to start the car. This is sufficient time for most persons with normal reaction time.

Drunk persons will not be able to do it, since their reaction is drastically slowed. Those with reaction times slower than 150 miliseconds, must apply for a limited driver license and will be restricted to secondary roads, and city streets. (This hasn't happened yet - - but it probably will before 1980!)

A LOOK AT THE FUTURE: The time is 1979. The old Highway Safety Act first passed in 1966 has been amended to require a reaction time device be built into every highway motor vehicle on the road. The device is said to prevent the operation of a car by a drunk, or by those drivers with reaction times too slow for modern Speedway driving.

The safety device works this way: A small box fits on the dashboard. The driver puts his personalized, reaction-time key into the regular ignition slot and turns it to the "on" position. Now a small bulb lights signalling the driver to turn the key to "start" as quickly as he can.

The driver has 150 miliseconds to turn the key, making the connection to start the car. This is sufficient time for most persons with normal reaction time.

Drunk persons will not be able to do it, since their reaction is drastically slowed. Those with reaction times slower than 150 miliseconds, must apply for a limited driver license and will be restricted to secondary roads, and city streets. (This hasn't happened yet - - but it probably will before 1980!)

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

ABC's Film Safari Into Africa

ABC's four-hour Africa study, televised last Sunday night, was a prodigious project, and considering the complexities in any attempt to sum up that continent the producers made quite a penetrating job of it.

Hal Humphrey

But four hours is an awfully large dose of something which most Americans undoubtedly feel has no direct bearing on their lives at the moment. Add to this the scholastic approach which prevailed throughout most of the film, and one can wonder if enough viewers stayed to the end to make the four hours worthwhile.

-:-

THOSE WHO didn't stick it out missed the most interesting hour, which was the last one. It dealt with Angola and Mozambique (still controlled by Portugal), Southern Rhodesia and the Republic of South Africa where the Afrikaners (Dutch and Huguenot descendants) keep the African Negro subjugated under the rules of apartheid.

After viewing this hour, one's hope diminished further that man's inhumanity to man ever will end.

This segment of Africa had an ironic contrast with the first half hour, which included the work of two scientists to preserve the continent's wildlife. It is a noble goal, and when viewers later saw the condition of the human species in Africa, it looked as if animal life someday may be all that would be worth saving.

ANTHROPOLOGIST Louis S. B. Leakey, whose diggings in central Africa have convinced him that this was the scene of man's beginning, offered the opinion that the early weaponless species of man survived the wildlife because he didn't smell or taste nice, or both. so was left alone.

It would have been interesting to hear Dr. Leakey's opinion of today's man and what he's done with his ability to survive.

The frequently incisive narration for Africa was handled efficiently by actor Gregory Peck, who at one point introduced a young Peace Corpsman at work in Tanzania as Jonathan Peck, but modestly refrained from saying he was his son.

Although there doesn't seem much to be humorous about in Africa, the writers might have striven harder to find some light moments to allow Peck and his audience a slight chuckle, or at least a sigh of relief.

ABC COMMENTATOR Howard K. Smith appeared twice (in midprogram and at the end) to analyze the new African leaders and the continent's future. The leaders he put into two classifications—the rockers of the boat and nonrockers. Neither type seems to be succeeding.

Kenya's President Jomo Kenyatta was held up as one who seems to have struck a middle-of-the-road balance and accomplished a working multiracial state with minimum friction, but it was pointed out that his government was running out of money to buy farm land from the white owners.

One brief segment did reveal that Africans, or at least a few of them, do have some fun. There was a camel race, wrestling bouts, kids playing soccer, song star Miriam Makeba singing for an audience in Nairobi, Kenya, and an exhibition of one strong man breaking rocks with a sledge-hammer across the stomach of his partner.

MOST of the four hours, though, deal with the tragedy of Africa. The old dungeons where slaves were held until shipped out were shown, while narrator Peck made the point of how the 25 to 50 million taken out in bondage from Africa had left a mark on all civilization and started the myth of the black being inferior to the white and how the myth continues to hang on.

Viewers also saw the huge and useless edifices built by the now-deposed Kwame Nkrumah in Ghana, who bankrupted the country but amassed a personal fortune before the military illegally grabbed control.

The visual side of this AK

The visual side of this Africa program generally kept pace with the audio side, which doesn't happen too often in TV documentaries. Those who saw it in color, of course, had a decided advantage.

Except for the last hour, the sponsor kept the interruptions fairly well spaced, and for this type of marathon viewing they sometimes were even welcomed.

Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Brown, Cornell, Columbia and Dartmouth are the colleges that comprise the "Ivy League."

Recorded Deeds Reach New High

LISBON — Columbiana County recorded a record 489 deeds with a consideration of $2,591,028 in August, Recorder John P. Wargo reports in his montly summary.

The 308 mortgages ($3,705,379) recorded in the period tie the previous high set in October, 1963.

Other instruments recorded were 212 mortgage cancellations ($1,984,508), 49 leases, 37 service discharges, 19 federal tax liens, 18 federal tax releases, 7 power of attorney forms, 7 unemployment compensation releases, 3 mechanics liens, 2 surety bonds, 2 plats, 2 unemployment compensation liens and personal tax release.

5 Get Passing Grades On 2 City Job Exams

Five men received passing grades in examinations held Monday and Tuesday nights at City Hall by the Civil Service Commission to draw up new eligibility lists for police and fire department appointments.

Four police department applicants received passing scores. Listed in the order in which they finished, they are: Arthur Ira Peters of 1172 Harker Ave., Joseph Robert Bates of MC 21, William Harry Carnegie of MC 22, LaCroft Ave., and Bruce Lee Conkle of 406 Summit Ln.

John A. Walsh of 1071 St. George St. was the only applicant to receive a passing grade in the fire department test. Two more applicants failed to appear and two did not pass the test.

The police exam was given Monday night. The papers were graded Tuesday night while the test for fire department applicants was under way. There is no vacancy on either department at present.

Plan $1 Billion Slums Investment

Insurance Firms Promise Boosts LBJ's Rent Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1-billion slum investment promise by the life insurance industry has boosted President Johnson's battered rent supplement program.

Life insurance leaders announced at the White House Wednesday they will make $1 billion of their $16 billion in annual investment money available for use in the city slums.

And Gilbert W. Fitzhugh, board chairman of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., said "the rent supplement program is probably the area into which we will move most rapidly."

Immediately, the move will provide the rent supplements program with private long-term mortgage money which has been lacking. This will counter critics of the rent supplements program who have argued supplements were not feasible because private firms wouldn't invest in the buildings.

The move also could give rent supplements a lift in Congress, where the program is fighting for its life. A House-passed bill would kill it by denying expansion funds. The Senate Appropriations Committee gave new hope to supporters of the program by voting it the full $40 million the administration asked.

Rent supplements are the difference between a determined reasonable rental and the 25 per cent of their income which qualifying families pay.

Wednesday's announcement also gave the President his second announced new thrust into the low-income housing field in as many days. Robert C. Weaver, secretary of housing and urban development, said Tuesday it would be possible to double last fiscal year's output of public housing units to about 70,000 this year.

And less than a month ago Weaver announced a new plan to bring private enterprise into construction and management to speed production of low-income public housing.

In addition to providing mortgage money for the rent supplement program, the life insurance companies will make such money available for residents of blighted areas to buy or improve their homes.

Fitzhugh, chairman of the Urban Problems Committee of the American Life Convention and Life Insurance Association of America, also indicated the industry will finance some commercial developments in the slums.

Money for these purposes now is extremely scarce—and what is available draws burdensome interest rates, federal housing officials said in a series of interviews, explaining that private lenders consider blighted areas bad risks.

"Brainwashing" is the forcible replacement of one set of political ideas by another set, especially through indoctrination or mental torture.

Industrial Leader

NEW YORK — At the turn of the century, New York City was responsible for one-tenth of the U.S. manufacturing output. The city's 40,000 companies produced more than $1.3 billion worth of goods in 1900. The five leading industries were clothing, printing and publishing, machine and foundry products, foods and chemicals — the same as today.

Recorded Deeds Reach New High

LISBON — Columbiana County recorded a record 489 deeds with a consideration of $2,591,028 in August, Recorder John P. Wargo reports in his montly summary.

The 308 mortgages ($3,705,379) recorded in the period tie the previous high set in October, 1963.

Other instruments recorded were 212 mortgage cancellations ($1,984,508), 49 leases, 37 service discharges, 19 federal tax liens, 18 federal tax releases, 7 power of attorney forms, 7 unemployment compensation releases, 3 mechanics liens, 2 surety bonds, 2 plats, 2 unemployment compensation liens and personal tax release.

5 Get Passing Grades On 2 City Job Exams

Five men received passing grades in examinations held Monday and Tuesday nights at City Hall by the Civil Service Commission to draw up new eligibility lists for police and fire department appointments.

Four police department applicants received passing scores. Listed in the order in which they finished, they are: Arthur Ira Peters of 1172 Harker Ave., Joseph Robert Bates of MC 21, William Harry Carnegie of MC 22, LaCroft Ave., and Bruce Lee Conkle of 406 Summit Ln.

John A. Walsh of 1071 St. George St. was the only applicant to receive a passing grade in the fire department test. Two more applicants failed to appear and two did not pass the test.

The police exam was given Monday night. The papers were graded Tuesday night while the test for fire department applicants was under way. There is no vacancy on either department at present.

Plan $1 Billion Slums Investment

Insurance Firms Promise Boosts LBJ's Rent Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1-billion slum investment promise by the life insurance industry has boosted President Johnson's battered rent supplement program.

Life insurance leaders announced at the White House Wednesday they will make $1 billion of their $16 billion in annual investment money available for use in the city slums.

And Gilbert W. Fitzhugh, board chairman of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., said "the rent supplement program is probably the area into which we will move most rapidly."

Immediately, the move will provide the rent supplements program with private long-term mortgage money which has been lacking. This will counter critics of the rent supplements program who have argued supplements were not feasible because private firms wouldn't invest in the buildings.

The move also could give rent supplements a lift in Congress, where the program is fighting for its life. A House-passed bill would kill it by denying expansion funds. The Senate Appropriations Committee gave new hope to supporters of the program by voting it the full $40 million the administration asked.

Rent supplements are the difference between a determined reasonable rental and the 25 per cent of their income which qualifying families pay.

Wednesday's announcement also gave the President his second announced new thrust into the low-income housing field in as many days. Robert C. Weaver, secretary of housing and urban development, said Tuesday it would be possible to double last fiscal year's output of public housing units to about 70,000 this year.

And less than a month ago Weaver announced a new plan to bring private enterprise into construction and management to speed production of low-income public housing.

In addition to providing mortgage money for the rent supplement program, the life insurance companies will make sucn money available for residents of blighted areas to buy or improve their homes.

Fitzhugh, chairman of the Urban Problems Committee of the American Life Convention and Life Insurance Association of America, also indicated the industry will finance some commercial developments in the slums.

Money for these purposes now is extremely scarce—and what is available draws burdensome interest rates, federal housing officials said in a series of interviews, explaining that private lenders consider blighted areas bad risks.

"Brainwashing" is the forcible replacement of one set of political ideas by another set, especially through indoctrination or mental torture.

Industrial Leader

NEW YORK — At the turn of the century, New York City was responsible for one-tenth of the U.S. manufacturing output. The city's 40,000 companies produced more than $1.3 billion worth of goods in 1900. The five leading industries were clothing, printing and publishing, machine and foundry products, foods and chemicals — the same as today.

Crucible's Annual Gift

UF At Midland Gets $20,300 During Kickoff

The presentation of a check for $20,300 by the Midland Division of Crucible Steel Co. highlighted the kickoff dinner of the Midland Area United Fund campaign Wednesday night at the plant management dining room at Crucible. Crucible's annual gift was presented by John Strand, president of the Midland Division.

About 50 guests, including volunteer workers, attended the dinner. Edwin Marsh, general campaign chairman, was master of ceremonies.

In his introductory remarks, Charles Kurcina, president of the Midland Area United Fund, welcomed the guests, and thanked Crucible Steel for once again hosting the dinner.

Kurcina gave a brief history of the Midland Area United Fund since its beginning in 1948, when $12,000 was collected for nine charitable agencies, and compared this with the drive held last year when $69,000 was raised to help 42 agencies. He spoke of the excellent work accomplished by last year's chairman, Joseph Scalise, who was assisted by Marsh and Dwayne Cooper, co-chairmen.

Strand remarked, "We at Crucible are vitally interested in the United Fund campaign in Beaver County and in our local community." He expressed all good wishes for the success of this year's goal which is seven per cent higher than last year's.

Marsh said the new goal is up $4,600 for a total of $71,272. He said the County goal for the first time is over $1,000,000, and urged volunteer workers to include a new target in this year's drive, the "non-contributor."

Marsh introduced one of his co - chairmen, Rex Crawford, who urged immediate action by the volunteer workers. He stated, "If we don't fool around, we'll make our goal!" Another co-chairman, Cooper, was unable to attend.

Charles Henderson, county co-chairman of the UF drive, and plant manager of the St. Joseph Lead Co., commended the volunteer workers. He instructed them to urge contributors to give under the "Fair Share" plan, which asks a person earning less than $10,000 annually to contribute one hour's pay per month, and those earning between $10,000 and $20,000 to give one per cent of their income.

Beaver County Judge James E. Rowley, United Fund chairman of admissions and allocations, explained how a 25 member committee prepares a budget for 42 agencies supported by the United Fund. He said each of four sub-committees reviews the applications of the agencies who express their needs for the coming year. The committee has the two-fold responsibility of recommending County-wide allocations to the County Board of Directors of the United Fund, and to provide guidelines for local allocations.

He said 60 per cent of the $4,600 goal increase is needed because of an increased demand for the services of agencies such as the Red Cross and the Blood Bank. He cited the fact there are 4,100 Beaver County men in the armed forces with more demand on the Red Cross. Increased demands on the blood bank requires another person be added to the staff. Other needs are for part-time social workers at some of the agencies, a part-time psychologist at the Mental Hygiene Clinic and a part-time speech therapist at an agency. More funds are needed for medical research, he added, in several areas.

About 40 per cent of the increase is required to meet a cost of living increment, he said. He expressed his confidence that the Midland Area United Fund could easily meet its goal.

John McMichael, executive director of the Beaver County Branch of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind, spoke and screened "The Magic Pin," the 1968 Beaver County United Fund film.

McMichael said he is aware that some folks feel the UF is a big joke, but at the close of some very busy days, he sometimes wonders how so many people could have so many very real problems, such as blindness, and its associated problems for 500 handicapped in this way in Beaver County.

Marsh introduced Richard Fusco, executive director of the county United Fund. Fusco's assistant, Dave Dragan, gave instructions to the volunteer workers. He said each prospect will be given a pledge card, a brochure giving a comprehensive look at UF, and a window sticker and a metal lapel pin. Those participating under the Fair Share plan will receive a lapel check pin in gold.

Marsh concluded the meeting by announcing that this year's report meetings will be held in the conference room of the Crucible Steel Co. administration building. The meetings will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 2, Oct. 16 and Oct. 30, with a 70 per cent, 90 per cent, and 105-110 per cent reporting expected respectively.

Lisbon Area News

Mrs. Ray Alexander 424-5674

Louis J. Raymond of Salem, Columbiana County coordinator for the bloodmobile program, was guest speaker. She pointed out that Columbiana County now ranks third in the area blood mobile program after being 27th only seven years ago.

The nurses association, coordinator of the program in Lisbon, topped the 125 pint quota by 15 the last time the bloodmobile was in Lisbon, last March.

The bloodmobile again will be in Lisbon Oct. 3 from noon to 6 p.m. at the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Vance Brinker and Mrs. T. W. Liggett are taking appointments for donors.

The next meeting Oct. 10 will be at the home of Mrs. Kessler of the Fairfield Rd. A program on child poisoning will be presented by the Columbiana Jaycee-ettes.

Lisbon Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Phillips, Mrs. Fred Henderson and Mrs. Everett Rich visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Alexander and family of the Canton Rd. Wednesday night to celebrate Robert Alexander's 20th birthday and the September birthdays of Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Rich.

Serbian Church Lists Activities

The Very Rev. Milorad Dobrota of the Midland St. George Serbian Church said the regular monthly congregational meeting scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the lyceum.

The Junior Choir will rehearse tonight at 7 in the lyceum. All members of the choir are requested to attend in connection with a guest appearance Sept. 24 at Farrell. The choir will join with the Vojislav Ilich Choir of Farrell.

Fr. Dobrota said the Junior Choir is accepting new members. Those interested in joining may attend tonight's rehearsal. Eligible are those who are 9 or will be 9 before the end of the year.

Church School classes have resumed for the fall semester. Following Divine Liturgy on Sunday, a special prayer was offered by Fr. Doborta to initiate the beginning of the new scholastic year for all children of the Church School and students in high school and college.

Fr. Dobrota was a main speaker at a banquet concluding a convention of the Serbian Singing Federation at the Serbian Club at Aliquippa Sunday afternoon. In illustrating his address, "The Serbian Culture of Music," Michele Ann Meriage and Nadine Vuynovich demonstrated different melodies.

On Sunday the Church School classes will meet at 9:45 a. m. with Divine Liturgy scheduled for 10 a.m. The Feast Day of the Nativity of the Virgin Mary will be celebrated at the church with Divine Liturgy Sept. 21 at 10 a.m.

Auto Pioneer Dies

LONDON (AP) — Lord Lambury of Northfield, 71, British automobile industry pioneer, died Wednesday.

Scout Group Holds Kickoff

The change will be voted during the annual meeting in January.

Forty - five attended the coverdish dinner and program arranged by Mrs. Dorothy Bunfill, chairman, Mrs. Audrey Stevens and Mrs. Marge Kinzel.

A flag ceremony was conducted by Cadet Troop 486 of Chester. The invocation was given by the Rev. James Sanko of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church of Wellsville.

After dinner, songs were led by Edith Werkheiser, a Chester Cadet Girl Scout.

Miss Jane Morris, chairman the Wellsville Neighborhood, welcomed leaders from the Wellsville, Chester - Newell and Paris - Florence Neighborhoods. She also introduced Wellsville Girl Scout leaders by troops. Mrs. Edwin Wine introduced Chester - Newell adult workers and Gerry Revay and Doris McNinch were present from the Paris - Florence Neighborhood.

Mrs. Nelson Ritner, a representative of the Council office, discussed the nut and crunch sale to be held in October.

Miss B. Irene Cross, District 3 adviser, taught the "Piper Song" and she and Mrs. Schafer led group singing.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bratt, special guests, screened slides of their trip to the Philippines, Bataan and Corregidor.

The meeting concluded with the rededication of leaders, led by Miss Pat Daily. Taps followed. Other guests were Mrs. Helen Boyd and Mrs. Vi Dondzila from the Wintersville Neighborhood.

Health Board Report Given

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Health paid the county treasury $38,025 in sanitation and food service fees between March 10, 1963, and March 31, 1966, according to state examiner Robert L. Hookey.

He said $29,424 came from sanitation fees and $8,601 from food service operations. The only full - year totals in the report are from 1964 and 1965. Sanitation fees increased from $9,008 to $9,699 and food service fees from $2,718 to $2,873 in the two years.

The report lists personnel and salaries in the various divisions of the health department. Hookey said the Board of Health minutes "were neat and properly signed" and a check of the bills approved by the board disclosed no errors or unauthorized expenditures.

The cancer detection clinic established Aug. 1, 1965, through a federal grant had receipts of $7,516 and expenses of $7,369 during the audit period. Women who visited the clinic gave $376.50, which was turned over to the American society.

County residents may inspect the report at the offices of Auditor Kenneth Bell or Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis at the Courthouse.

Officers Report 2 Local Crashes

Four cars were damaged in two East Liverpool traffic mishaps late Wednesday afternoon, police reported.

A collision on W. 8th St. at Lisbon St. at 6:46 p. m. involved a 1965 sedan driven by John N. Graham, 45, of Williams Ave. and a 1962 sedan operated by Myrtle E. Travers, 21, of 1229 Clover St., Wellsville. Graham was pulling onto Lisbon St. from W. 8th St. and the woman was proceeding east on W. 8th St., officers said.

William Maltarich, 47, of 1126 St. George St. was cited on a charge of driving without an operator's license after a mishap at 5 p. m. on Mulberry St. near Locust St. that damaged his 1960 sedan and a 1963 sedan driven by Robert C. Kidd 39, of 911 St. George St., officers said.

Kidd was driving east on Mulberry St. and Maltarich was pulling away from a parking spot, officers reported.

Church At Midland To Hear Missionary

The Rev. and Mrs. John DelTurco and son, Jonathan, of Beaver Falls, recently returned from a three-year evangelistic missionary tour of Italy, Belgium, France and other European countries and the British Isles, will be guest speakers Sunday at 7 p. m. at the Midland Assembly of God Church.

Rev. DelTurco will screen colored slides of several European countries. Mrs. DelTurco, a soprano soloist, will be accompanied at the organ by Mrs. McClure.

Crucible's Annual Gift

The presentation of a check for $20,300 by the Midland Division of Crucible Steel Co. highlighted the kickoff dinner of the Midland Area United Fund campaign Wednesday night at the plant management dining room at Crucible. Crucible's annual gift was presented by John Strand, president of the Midland Division.

About 50 guests, including volunteer workers, attended the dinner. Edwin Marsh, general campaign chairman, was master of ceremonies.

In his introductory remarks, Charles Kurcina, president of the Midland Area United Fund, welcomed the guests, and thanked Crucible Steel for once again hosting the dinner.

Kurcina gave a brief history of the Midland Area United Fund since its beginning in 1948, when $12,000 was collected for nine charitable agencies, and compared this with the drive held last year when $69,000 was raised to help 42 agencies. He spoke of the excellent work accomplished by last year's chairman, Joseph Scalise, who was assisted by Marsh and Dwayne Cooper, co-chairmen.

Strand remarked, "We at Crucible are vitally interested in the United Fund campaign in Beaver County and in our local community." He expressed all good wishes for the success of this year's goal which is seven per cent higher than last year's.

Marsh said the new goal is up $4,600 for a total of $71,272. He said the County goal for the first time is over $1,000,000, and urged volunteer workers to include a new target in this year's drive, the "non-contributor."

Marsh introduced one of his co - chairmen, Rex Crawford, who urged immediate action by the volunteer workers. He stated, "If we don't fool around, we'll make our goal!" Another co-chairman, Cooper, was unable to attend.

Charles Henderson, county co-chairman of the UF drive, and plant manager of the St. Joseph Lead Co., commended the volunteer workers. He instructed them to urge contributors to give under the "Fair Share" plan, which asks a person earning less than $10,000 annually to contribute one hour's pay per month, and those earning between $10,000 and $20,000 to give one per cent of their income.

Beaver County Judge James E. Rowley, United Fund chairman of admissions and allocations, explained how a 25 member committee prepares a budget for 42 agencies supported by the United Fund. He said each of four sub-committees reviews the applications of the agencies who express their needs for the coming year. The committee has the two-fold responsibility of recommending County-wide allocations to the County Board of Directors of the United Fund, and to provide guidelines for local allocations.

He said 60 per cent of the $4,600 goal increase is needed because of an increased demand for the services of agencies such as the Red Cross and the Blood Bank. He cited the fact there are 4,100 Beaver County men in the armed forces with more demand on the Red Cross. Increased demands on the blood bank requires another person be added to the staff. Other needs are for part-time social workers at some of the agencies, a part-time psychologist at the Mental Hygiene Clinic and a part-time speech therapist at an agency. More funds are needed for medical research, he added, in several areas.

About 40 per cent of the increase is required to meet a cost of living increment, he said. He expressed his confidence that the Midland Area United Fund could easily meet its goal.

John McMichael, executive director of the Beaver County Branch of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind, spoke and screened "The Magic Pin," the 1968 Beaver County United Fund film.

McMichael said he is aware that some folks feel the UF is a big joke, but at the close of some very busy days, he sometimes wonders how so many people could have so many very real problems, such as blindness, and its associated problems for 500 handicapped in this way in Beaver County.

Marsh introduced Richard Fusco, executive director of the county United Fund. Fusco's assistant, Dave Dragan, gave instructions to the volunteer workers. He said each prospect will be given a pledge card, a brochure giving a comprehensive look at UF, and a window sticker and a metal lapel pin. Those participating under the Fair Share plan will receive a lapel check pin in gold.

Marsh concluded the meeting by announcing that this year's report meetings will be held in the conference room of the Crucible Steel Co. administration building. The meetings will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 2, Oct. 16 and Oct. 30, with a 70 per cent, 90 per cent, and 105-110 per cent reporting expected respectively.

Scout Group Holds Kickoff

The change will be voted during the annual meeting in January.

Forty - five attended the coverdish dinner and program arranged by Mrs. Dorothy Bunfill, chairman, Mrs. Audrey Stevens and Mrs. Marge Kinzel.

A flag ceremony was conducted by Cadet Troop 486 of Chester. The invocation was given by the Rev. James Sanko of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church of Wellsville.

After dinner, songs were led by Edith Werkheiser, a Chester Cadet Girl Scout.

Miss Jane Morris, chairman the Wellsville Neighborhood, welcomed leaders from the Wellsville, Chester - Newell and Paris - Florence Neighborhoods. She also introduced Wellsville Girl Scout leaders by troops. Mrs. Edwin Wine introduced Chester - Newell adult workers and Gerry Revay and Doris McNinch were present from the Paris - Florence Neighborhood.

Mrs. Nelson Ritner, a representative of the Council office, discussed the nut and crunch sale to be held in October.

Miss B. Irene Cross, District 3 adviser, taught the "Piper Song" and she and Mrs. Schafer led group singing.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bratt, special guests, screened slides of their trip to the Philippines, Bataan and Corregidor.

The meeting concluded with the rededication of leaders, led by Miss Pat Daily. Taps followed. Other guests were Mrs. Helen Boyd and Mrs. Vi Dondzila from the Wintersville Neighborhood.

Health Board Report Given

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Health paid the county treasury $38,025 in sanitation and food service fees between March 10, 1963, and March 31, 1966, according to state examiner Robert L. Hookey.

He said $29,424 came from sanitation fees and $8,601 from food service operations. The only full - year totals in the report are from 1964 and 1965. Sanitation fees increased from $9,008 to $9,699 and food service fees from $2,718 to $2,873 in the two years.

The report lists personnel and salaries in the various divisions of the health department. Hookey said the Board of Health minutes "were neat and properly signed" and a check of the bills approved by the board disclosed no errors or unauthorized expenditures.

The cancer detection clinic established Aug. 1, 1965, through a federal grant had receipts of $7,516 and expenses of $7,369 during the audit period. Women who visited the clinic gave $376.50, which was turned over to the American society.

County residents may inspect the report at the offices of Auditor Kenneth Bell or Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis at the Courthouse.

Officers Report 2 Local Crashes

Four cars were damaged in two East Liverpool traffic mishaps late Wednesday afternoon, police reported.

A collision on W. 8th St. at Lisbon St. at 6:46 p. m. involved a 1965 sedan driven by John N. Graham, 45, of Williams Ave. and a 1962 sedan operated by Myrtle E. Travers, 21, of 1229 Clover St., Wellsville. Graham was pulling onto Lisbon St. from W. 8th St. and the woman was proceeding east on W. 8th St., officers said.

William Maltarich, 47, of 1126 St. George St. was cited on a charge of driving without an operator's license after a mishap at 5 p. m. on Mulberry St. near Locust St. that damaged his 1960 sedan and a 1963 sedan driven by Robert C. Kidd 39, of 911 St. George St., officers said.

Kidd was driving east on Mulberry St. and Maltarich was pulling away from a parking spot, officers reported.

Lisbon Area News

Mrs. Ray Alexander 424-5674

Louis J. Raymond of Salem, Columbiana County coordinator for the bloodmobile program, was guest speaker. She pointed out that Columbiana County now ranks third in the area blood mobile program after being 27th only seven years ago.

The nurses association, coordinator of the program in Lisbon, topped the 125 pint quota by 15 the last time the bloodmobile was in Lisbon, last March.

The bloodmobile again will be in Lisbon Oct. 3 from noon to 6 p.m. at the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Vance Brinker and Mrs. T. W. Liggett are taking appointments for donors.

The next meeting Oct. 10 will be at the home of Mrs. Kessler of the Fairfield Rd. A program on child poisoning will be presented by the Columbiana Jaycee-ettes.

Lisbon Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Phillips, Mrs. Fred Henderson and Mrs. Everett Rich visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Alexander and family of the Canton Rd. Wednesday night to celebrate Robert Alexander's 20th birthday and the September birthdays of Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Rich.

Serbian Church Lists Activities

The Very Rev. Milorad Dobrota of the Midland St. George Serbian Church said the regular monthly congregational meeting scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the lyceum.

The Junior Choir will rehearse tonight at 7 in the lyceum. All members of the choir are requested to attend in connection with a guest appearance Sept. 24 at Farrell. The choir will join with the Vojislav Ilich Choir of Farrell.

Fr. Dobrota said the Junior Choir is accepting new members. Those interested in joining may attend tonight's rehearsal. Eligible are those who are 9 or will be 9 before the end of the year.

Church School classes have resumed for the fall semester. Following Divine Liturgy on Sunday, a special prayer was offered by Fr. Doborta to initiate the beginning of the new scholastic year for all children of the Church School and students in high school and college.

Fr. Dobrota was a main speaker at a banquet concluding a convention of the Serbian Singing Federation at the Serbian Club at Aliquippa Sunday afternoon. In illustrating his address, "The Serbian Culture of Music," Michele Ann Meriage and Nadine Vuynovich demonstrated different melodies.

On Sunday the Church School classes will meet at 9:45 a. m. with Divine Liturgy scheduled for 10 a.m. The Feast Day of the Nativity of the Virgin Mary will be celebrated at the church with Divine Liturgy Sept. 21 at 10 a.m.

Auto Pioneer Dies

LONDON (AP) — Lord Lambury of Northfield, 71, British automobile industry pioneer, died Wednesday.

Church At Midland To Hear Missionary

The Rev. and Mrs. John DelTurco and son, Jonathan, of Beaver Falls, recently returned from a three-year evangelistic missionary tour of Italy, Belgium, France and other European countries and the British Isles, will be guest speakers Sunday at 7 p. m. at the Midland Assembly of God Church.

Rev. DelTurco will screen colored slides of several European countries. Mrs. DelTurco, a soprano soloist, will be accompanied at the organ by Mrs. McClure.

You meet the nicest people on a Honda

Maybe it's the incredibly low price. Or the fantastic mileage. It could be the precision engineering. Or the safety and convenience features. But most likely it's the fun. Evidently nothing catches on like the fun of owning a Honda. Join in. The first step is a demonstration ride. Why not today?

You meet the nicest people on a Honda

Maybe it's the incredibly low price. Or the fantastic mileage. It could be the precision engineering. Or the safety and convenience features. But most likely it's the fun. Evidently nothing catches on like the fun of owning a Honda. Join in. The first step is a demonstration ride. Why not today?

Junior Editors Quiz on AFGHAN HOUND

QUESTION: Where did Afghan hounds originate?

ANSWER: Dogs were domesticated in prehistoric times. As the great civilizations arose, kings and nobles began to develop special breeds to help them hunt swift game such as antelope. For this purpose, ancient dogs were bred to be great runners—long-legged, lean and with deep chests. Two such ancient breeds are shown at the top of our picture. The Afghan hound was among the most ancient of such breeds, originating in Egypt 5000 to 6000 years ago. Called "baboon dogs" because their thin faces had a monkey-like look, they were taken into the mountain country of Afghanistan, a county near Persia. Here they were bred to hunt in rough, hilly country and acquired the heavy silky coat of hair which enables them to stand extremes of temperature. Later after Afghan became accepted as an unusual and striking dog, apart from his hunting ability. Afghan puppies may have their tails cropped; but when the tail is left on, an Afghan carries it proudly, high in the air.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1901, President William McKinley died in Buffalo from wounds he had received eight days earlier at the hands of an anarchist.

On this date—

In 1778, Benjamin Franklin was sent to France as American minister plenipotentiary.

In 1812, after an invasion by Napoleon, residents of Moscow set fire to the city, causing the destruction of about 30,000 houses.

"In 1814, the words of the Star-Spangled Banner" were written by Francis Scott Key while a prisoner on the British warship "Supreme."

In 1948, Congress passed the Selective Service and Training Act.

Ten years ago—Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas flew to Newport, Rhode Island, to con- r with President Eisenhower n the explosive situation in Lit- le Rock.

Five years ago—Leaders of the nations of the British Commonwealth were conferring in London on the question of England's admission to the European Common Market.
